TERRIFIC STRUGGLE AT BELGIAN BORDER

Largest One-Day Casualty List Tells of Action

PRO-TEUTON TENDENCIES CHARGED TO NAFTZGER

Vice-Chairman and Assistant Westfall of State Council of Defense Are Accused in a Letter Sent to Gov. Stephens

SAYS ALL DUTIES OF OFFICE ARE DODGED

Leo C. Owen, Publicity Director, Resigns After Declaring That Men in Charge of Work Unfit; Naftzger Also Out?

A. H. Naftzger, vice-chairman of the State Council of Defense, and S. H. Westfall, his assistant, are accused of being pro-Germans in a letter sent to Governor Stephens by Leo C. Owen, publicity director and assistant secretary of the council, which was received today.

Naftzger's resignation, to take effect May 1, has been in the hands of Governor Stephens for several days. Owen's letter of resignation was sent to the governor March 26, but this fact did not become public until today, when the trouble that has existed between Naftzger and Owen was precipitated by what Owen asserts to have been an attempt on the part of Naftzger to pry into Owen's private correspondence.

Owen intimated that he had not told the governor all that he knows concerning what he terms pro-Germanism on the part of the men and that he will take his evidence to the federal authorities. He had not been before the department of justice operatives late today, according to Don Rathbun, chief operative.

CRITICISM OF SALARY CAUSES RESIGNATION.

Naftzger's resignation, which came so long after an attack on him by John F. Neelan that it caused surprise, was explained by the assertion that he could not stand the criticism heaped on him because he accepted for his work of patriotism a salary of $500 a month. To the accusations of Owen he replies in detail, making categorical denial of all the charges and concerning the immediate cause of his discharging Owen says:

"Late on Saturday last, learning that he had sent a scurrilous telegram, followed by a false and insulting letter to the Council of National Defense in Washington, I called him into my office on Monday morning and asked him for a copy of the letter, which he said he did not have. He then discharged him. Knowing that he had been making false statements I called my assistant, Mr. Westfall, in as a witness. There was no violence whatever connected with the incident, although Owen made some rather violent threats which he did not venture to carry out. The stenographer who took Owen's dictation of the scurrilous letter on Saturday refused to make a copy for me and destroyed the notes. I thereupon dismissed her from our service and she had destroyed a document that belonged to the office. This is a case of swelled head, become more and more aggravated with increasing insubordination and finally the unprovoked letter to Washington reflecting on the Governor, Stephens, the State Board of Control and the State Council of Defense. For this I fired him. I shall mention but a few of his many false statements. He says the first expenditure of the State Council of Defense was $250 to pay for a banquet in Sacramento. The law creating the State Council of Defense requires that the expenses of the members attending meetings shall be paid by the council, and the first meeting, at which Owen was not present, was attended by thirty-five members and the session lasted two days. The hotel bill and traveling expenses were paid, the members were together at one luncheon and one dinner, neither of which was in any sense a banquet. Everything Owen says about misappropriation of funds, missing books and vouchers, false or dishonest audit of accounts by the State Board of Control are entirely false. He says Martin Madsen, secretary to the governor, and I passed many hours selecting men of the farm labor committee. I had nothing whatever to do with the

Mutiny Breaks Out in German Military Camp

AMSTERDAM, April 10.—An extensive mutiny occurred Monday in the German camp at Beverloo, according to reports received here today from the Belgian front. German soldiers are said to have fired upon their officers, killing three and wounding many. Seventeen soldiers have been arrested.

COUNTY PASSES MILLION MARK IN ITS LOAN DRIVE

Alameda county has passed the million-dollar mark in its third Liberty loan drive, and those directing the campaign are confident that the quota of $9,442,500 will be exceeded, but desire to impress on every one the necessity for unceasing labor in behalf of the great cause. The quotas and the subscriptions to date are:

Oakland	$6,860,475	$ 718,150
Berkeley	1,189,125	300,750
Alameda	481,725	58,000
County Districts	911,175	219,150
Totals	$9,442,500	$1,295,050

WARD WORK AHEAD FOR COMMITTEE

While the totals in Liberty loan subscriptions to date in Oakland and Alameda county show that the campaign has made material gains in its campaign to "over the top" with its specified allotment, Joseph H. King, executive chairman of the local Liberty loan committee, this morning pointed out that the committee as a whole must raise its daily average contributions in order to achieve the desired end.

"In three days Oakland and Alameda county have subscribed a total of $1,295,050," said King, "which leaves the county a balance of $8,147,450 to be subscribed in the remaining twenty-five days of the campaign. This means that an average daily subscription of more than $300,000 must be maintained from now until the end of the drive. The average for the first three days of the drive has been $431,683 per day, so it is plain to be seen that Oakland and the other cities of Alameda county must immediately stiffen up and 'carry on' even more aggressively than has been done so far.

LIVERMORE TO FORE WITH SUBSCRIPTIONS.

"Of the smaller cities in the county Livermore has made the biggest stride toward obtaining an honor flag. Toward its allotted quota of $182,025, already $114,800 has been subscribed. As against this splendid showing is a decided weakness in the records made so far by the cities of Berkeley and Alameda. The former, out of a required allotment of $1,189,125, has so far subscribed only $191,400, and the latter city has obtained only $21,900 toward its total quota of $481,725. Oakland, too, will have to look to her laurels, for out of the allotted quota of $6,860,475 the city has so far subscribed only $518,700. Emeryville is another district which is not making the showing it should, while its allotted quota has been fixed at $41,100, only $2100 has been subscribed.

"The figures which I have quoted are as of Monday night, which were received from the banks of the various districts Tuesday noon. Today's returns, which the local Liberty loan committee will not receive until tomorrow morning, may increase the percentage, but it is apparent that there is a need for more active work

Senate Amends Bill Covering Sedition

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Without a roll-call the Senate this afternoon adopted an amendment to the sedition bill offered by Senator Jones of New Mexico, providing for the immediate dismissal of any official or employee of the executive departments of the government who criticizes the government, the army or the navy. The provision is not retroactive.

The amendment offered by Senator Jones provides for the dismissal of an officer who was convicted of having committed the offenses prohibited by the sedition bill. It was aimed at officials of the government who are alleged to have made pro-German utterances prior to the entrance of the United States into the war.

Six I.W.W. Leaders Are Tarred and Feathered

ABERDEEN, Wash., April 10.—Six I. W. W. leaders were taken from their rooms here today by members of a vigilance committee, taken along a country road and tarred and feathered. They were then ordered to move on.

Five I. W. W. members were ordered to kiss the flag and swear allegiance to it. Literature found in their rooms was burned.

283 NAMES OF FALLEN HEROESSENT BY PERSHING

Captain John P. Hurley Among Slightly Wounded; Thirteen Lieutenants, Four Wounded Severely Included in List

FIVE MEN WERE KILLED IN ACTION

Great Majority of the Soldiers Whose Names Appear Were Only Those Slightly Wounded; Six Days' Casualties Also

WASHINGTON, April 10.—The largest casualty list for any day since the United States entered the war was announced by the war department today. There are 283 names on the list.

The list includes four lieutenants who were slightly wounded and four lieutenants who were wounded severely and nine wounded slightly. Their names follow:

WOUNDED SEVERELY—Lieutenants Daniel H. Lawlor, William D. Meyerling, John Walter Morris, James J. Wall Jr.

WOUNDED SLIGHTLY—Lieutenants Coleman D. Burns, William D. Crane, William T. Fenker, Thomas J. Jackson, Morris R. Levy, Arthur Martin, Michael C. P. Martin, William Thomas and Bernard J. Chanley.

Five men were killed in action, three died of wounds, eleven died of disease, seven died of accidents, ten were severely wounded, 145 wounded slightly and two were missing in action.

Thirteen lieutenants were among the men wounded.

The large number of wounded in the list, which is for Tuesday, April 9, indicates more activity in the American sector. A list containing 47 names issued yesterday gave the casualties of six days.

The complete list follows:

KILLED IN ACTION—Corporal Jules V. Fish, Privates Carey R. Evans, Fred W. Heinman, Salvatore Marcesse, Ralph B. Watts.

DIED OF WOUNDS—Corporal John E. Walsh, Cook Harry Hendrick, Private G. Ostrander.

DIED OF DISEASE—Corporal Lyman K. Swazy, Privates Thomas H. Bolton, Orwin E. Carr, William Ed. Davis, David E. Johnson, John L. Hall, Frank E. Kopf, Leo Lindner, Charles L. Roehl, Ervin Jackson, Clerk Edmund Krull.

WOUNDED SEVERELY—Sergeants Seth A. Sullivan, William J. Saulville, Privates Dorsey H. Dayton, Harry L. Erisman.

WOUNDED SLIGHTLY—Sergeants Leo G. Bonnard, Peter Conner, Peter J. Crotty, Claude S. D. Costa, Richard J. Johnson, Daniel Emerson, Thomas H. Gleason, August Hughes, Herbert F. McKenna, Francis L. Mead, Roy G. Ransom, John L. Ross, Corporals Michael Fenner, Harold A. Benham, Gerard A. Buckley, John J. Butler, Daniel J. Carroll, John J. Casey, Philip J. Hellriegel, Robert W. Holmes, Raymond E. U. S. INFANTRY IS SUPPORTING BRITISH GIVENCHY WRESTED FROM GERMANS

PORTUGUESE MAKE BRAVE FIGHT WITH HAIG'S MEN

British Commander Reports His Forces Fall Back Slightly After Fierce Hun Thrusts Between Lens - Armentieres

FOE ATTACKS FAIL IN GIVENCHY SECTOR

German Prisoners Are Taken South of Arras; Berlin Says English, Portuguese Lines Pierced North of La Bassee

FRANCE, April 10.—The Germans this morning extended the sector of yesterday's attack to the northward by launching a drive against the British between Armentieres and Mesines.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE

LONDON, April 10.—The mighty battle of Picardy, which started with the opening of the German offensive on March 21, has spread until it now covers nearly half of the western front.

As was expected, the terrific German bombardment between Lens and Armentieres has been followed by fierce infantry thrusts which compelled both the British and Portuguese to fall back slightly. Severe fighting has continued.

In his official despatches to the war office on Tuesday night, Field Marshal Haig detailed the latest German offensive operations as follows:

"On Tuesday morning, after an intense bombardment of the allied positions from La Bassee canal to the Armentieres sector, strong enemy forces attacked British and Portuguese positions. Warned by a heavy mist, which made observation difficult, the enemy succeeded in forcing his way into allied positions in the region of Neuve Chapelle, Faucoussart and Cardonnerie farm. Violent fighting lasted throughout the day, during which the Germans succeeded in forcing back the Portuguese troops in the center and the British troops on the flanks of the line of the Lys river between Estaires and Bach-sur-Meuse.

"We hold our positions in the sectors of Givenchy and Fleurbaix. In both places the enemy delivered strong attacks, which were repulsed. Richebourg-St. Vast and Lateneue were captured by the enemy. Severe fighting continues on this front."

PRISONERS TAKEN SOUTH OF ARRAS

South of Arras the comparative lull in the infantry fighting continued, but there were local operations in which the British captured some prisoners. The German version of the fighting on Tuesday, given out by the Berlin war office Tuesday night, follows:

"The German offensive between the British and Portuguese positions. On both sides of the Somme there have been violent artillery duels. On the southern bank of the Oise river the Germans threw back the French across the Oise-Aisne canal between Coucy-le-Chateau and Blerancourt."

The line across which fighting extended in the north is about twelve miles west of Solismes at the angle of the western front, just west of the point where it swings across the Aisne river. Coucy-le-Chateau is ten miles east of Blerancourt.

This was the first big battle in which Portuguese have taken part on the western front. Up to the present the operations against them had consisted only of raids and local attacks. Eyewitnesses of Tuesday's fray said that the Portuguese soldiers fought gallantly with great stubbornness against overwhelming odds. The finest troops of the German army were sent against them.

Hindenburg's Plans For Drive to Coast Checked By English at Estaires

Tremendous Concentration of Hun Cavalry and Infantry From La Bassee to Past Armentieres Show Serious Aim ALLIES HOLD ON LAWE AND LYS

Hindenburg's frenzied efforts to split the British line in Flanders and roll the northern flank back on the North Sea, opening the way to the channel ports, had spread into Belgium today along a 20-mile front.

The exact immediate purpose of the German effort is not yet clear. It has only succeeded in entering the foremost defenses at several points along the front, but should the enemy drive through to beyond Bethune and the Clarence river the strong British positions at Arras and Ypres would be endangered. The first onslaught, however, did not make any gain, although the Germans attacked in strong force after a most severe artillery bombardment of 48 hours.

The enemy has brought into action a tremendous concentration of artillery and is throwing in his infantry in dense masses. The Germans plainly are making another effort to break through the British positions.

Haig reported the fighting, which broke out early yesterday, continuing between the La Bassee canal and the Lys river, while the British positions as far north as the Ypres-Comines canal were under a terrific bombardment. The Belgian frontier crosses the battle front at a sharp bend in the Lys, about a miles north of Armentieres.

Between the La Bassee canal and Armentieres, Haig said, the British are holding on the Lys and Lawe rivers. The latter stream, flowing northward through Bethune, converges with the Lys at La Gorgue, less than a mile west of Estaires. The Lys flows eastward in a meandering course through Armentieres. British troops, according to their commander, are bitterly contesting the crossings at Estaires and Bac St. Maur, three miles northeast of Estaires.

Fighting already has broken out near Armentieres on the front under bombardment, indicating the Germans are losing no time in following up their cannonading with infantry assaults. Thus the actual fighting has been carried northward into Belgium, probably as far north as the famous town of Bloegsteert, three miles north of Armentieres. The towns made famous by the war which probably will figure in this fighting are Hollebeke, on the Ypres-Comines canal, and Messines, midway between Armentieres and Ypres.

Pressure About Messines Is Relieved, Says Maurice

LONDON, April 10.—The Germans this morning renewed their northern attack east of Armentieres as far as Messines (five miles north of Armentieres), General Maurice, director of operations, announced this afternoon.

"They entered our line between the Lys and the Douve (one mile south of Messines) and captured a considerable portion of Ploegsteert Wood (two miles south of the Douve)," he said. "The enemy is carrying out its original program of attempting to bleed the British army white."

"The attack on the Messines front has been repulsed and no high ground has been gained by the enemy, but the small advance made, together with yesterday's gains, may make Armentieres a very awkward salient. The enemy now is on both sides of Armentieres, which is a heap of ruins. If it is lost it will not be vital."

"Last night east of the old battlefield the French carried out a withdrawal from an awkward angle due to retirements of the Fifth army. Two French battalions were cut off and probably 2000 taken prisoner. The French fell back to a strong line on the Ailette."

"We and the Portuguese lost guns in yesterday's attack between Armentieres and Bethune and the Portuguese probably lost prisoners. The enemy advanced in the fighting yesterday in the center to a depth of 5500 yards."

AMERICANS ARE HURRIED IN FORCE TO WEST FRONT

Forerunners of Large Force of U. S. Troops Sent to Scene of Greatest Conflict, Joining the Army Under Haig's Charge

RIVER CROSSINGS ON LYS ARE DEFENDED

Ten Fresh Divisions of Crack Bavarian Soldiers Hurdled Against British in Effort to Force An Opening to Coast

By WILLIAM PHILIP SMITH, United Press Staff Correspondent.

WITH THE ARMIES IN FRANCE, April 10.—The first Americans have arrived at the British front.

They include infantry, airmen and engineers.

I have seen the Americans, who are the forerunners of many more, moving to their places in the line—cheery and full of ginger.

From the La Bassee canal to the southward of Armentieres there was terrific fighting throughout last night. Today on the left sector there was momentarily no infantry fighting, but the artillery was blazing away in full chorus.

Tuesday afternoon and night there was bloody hand-to-hand fighting around Armentieres and on the high ground about Givenchy and Bethune, which was the immediate German objective. The enemy attacks failed in both places.

BLOODY STRUGGLE IS FOUGHT AT GIVENCHY

Ten fresh divisions (120,000 men) of the best Bavarian troops were hurled repeatedly against the British on the high ground around Givenchy, where the British had captured the town and twice the British flung them back in the pitch black darkness—wielding bayonets, clubs and fists until the remnants of the German stormers retired beaten.

At the bridgehead of the Lys near Bac St. Maur, which the Germans held, there was similar fighting.

At sundown the enemy pressed us back to La Croix-Du-Back (one mile north of the river), but the British counter-attacked heavily and drove them back.

A big concentration of German guns was freely used in the forward and back areas as probable preparation for German attacks between Armentieres and Messines. There are no details regarding this activity.

General Pershing, conferring with General Foch at the front March 28, placed the entire American expeditionary force at the disposal of the allies. Three days later staff correspondents with the American army on the Toul front reported great forces of all branches of the service leaving that sector for the Picardy front. All the roads in that part of France were blocked by moving men and equipment, it was said.

The fact that these men have arrived at the "British front" probably locates them some place north of the Somme, as the British and French forces are supposed to converge at that point. They are five miles south of that river. All that portion of the front from Hangeard north to Dittmide, in Belgium, is held by Haig's troops.

It is assumed these forces will be brigaded with the British.

HAIG REPORTS HOLD ON MOOT POINT SECURE

LONDON, April 10.—In their new attack on the front north of the Somme battlefield the Germans yesterday forced their way into Givenchy but the British recaptured the town, the War Office announced.

Fierce fighting continued during last night on the front north of La Bassee Canal. The British troops are standing on the line of the rivers Lawe and Lys and are engaged in heavy fighting with the Germans at

AIR BOARD IS PLAYED FOR DUPLICITIES

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Charging government officials have "misrepresented the progress of the aviation program" and "misled the public," the Senate military affairs committee today demanded that the aircraft production be taken out of the hands of the signal corps and given to "one executive officer appointed by the President and responsible to him."

The committee, through Chairman Chamberlain, today filed with the Senate a report on its recent searching investigation of the whole aviation program. Its recommendations in brief are:

Take aircraft production out of the hands of the signal corps and give it to one man.

Surround this man with "a corps of the best aircraft engineers, both European and American."

Get an immediate supply of the best types of European aircraft engines while we are developing our own.

Encourage aircraft invention and development.

Make a broad plan and policy for the future.

When Senator Chamberlain of Oregon, chairman, presented the report, Senator Sheppard of Texas was given leave to file a minority report. This was the first public evidence of any division, although it had been reported that, after a stormy session yesterday, the Chamberlain report was approved by the narrow margin of 5 to 6.

Praising the work of aviation officials, and declaring that the Liberty motor is a demonstrated success, the minority report concluded: "On the whole, the record of the signal corps is one of which every American can be justly proud. In the face of unparalleled difficulty it is accomplishing an unparalleled task with characteristic American energy, capacity, patriotism and enthusiasm."

Senator Sheppard's minority report, signed by himself and Senators Myers, Montana, and Kirby, Ark., declared the minority believed the majority report did not show "proper estimate of what is being accomplished or that it is sufficiently complete to give an accurate impression of the facts."

U. S. AVIATOR IS BROUGHT DOWN BY HUN GUNS

AMSTERDAM, April 10.—The Germans made their first capture of an American aviator, a semi-official Berlin despatch reports. He is said to have been shot down on the west front on Sunday. Publicity Man Scores Naftzger Pro-German Charge Is Made selection of this committee and I never saw the list of names until they were sent to me from Governor Stephens' office. Equally false is his statement that he does the work that should be done by W. V. Cowan, the secretary of the State Council. He says the notes of his stenographic letter were taken to a stenographic expert in a San Francisco business college. No such thing ever happened."

CO-WORKERS ACCUSED OF— PRO-GERMAN TENDENCIES

In his letter of accusation concerning the alleged pro-German tendencies of his erstwhile co-workers, Owen says in part: "My Dear Governor: As serving to substantiate the various phases of my second allegation in regard to the misadministration of the State Council of Defense's affairs as set forth in my letter of resignation of this date, I herewith cite the following under the heading of provable charges, because it is my conviction that such allegations are set forth under this heading are susceptible to the fullest proof from the records and files of the council."

"Regarding the alleged pro-German sympathies of the administrative heads of the State Council, and by administrative heads I mean Mr. Naftzger and Mr. Westfall. My conclusions in this respect are based partly on the consistent failure of the State Council to give enthusiastic cooperation to government bureaus in various lines of war activities and to strongly expressed pro-German sympathies on the part of the assistant vice-chairman, which were reported to Mr. Dickson as early as last May. This conclusion has been further strengthened by more than ten months of close observations and by the fact that on numerous occasions he has both openly and surreptitiously endeavored to oppose activities in the State Council which were of important nature."

DEFENDED SINKING OF LUSTANIA

"Briefly reviewing the facts regarding the pro-German sympathies of Mr. Westfall, they are:

"During the latter part of last May and shortly after he had become connected with the State Council he strongly defended the sinkings of the Lusitania, stating that Americans had been warned by the German ambassador to stay off this vessel, and as she was carrying munitions of war for an enemy country, it was right and proper that German submarines had sunk her."

"The day following I engaged him in conversation along these lines and he defended the militaristic policy of Germany on the ground that that country was entirely surrounded by countries which must be regarded as her enemies. He became so wrought up in this defense that he tried to find on the European map ground with which he could illustrate his argument. He declared that we were not justified in entering the war against Germany and that the Kaiser had a justifiable right in sinking merchant vessels, either American or British-owned, which carried munitions of war to German enemies."

"I immediately reported this matter to Mr. Dickson, and I have been under the impression that he took the matter to the State Council. Several occasions Mr. Westfall has not only told me, but others, of his influence over Mr. Naftzger."

In his second letter Owen makes detailed charges that he says are provable. These have to do with expenditures of state defense money and various policies that are criticized. He asserts that little has been done of a constructive nature and in this respect his allegations are in substantiation and elaboration of those made by Neylan. Summing up he says:

DECLARES ORDERLY EFFICIENCY LACKING

"Provable charge number 4—That there is and has been ever since the State Council of Defense was first organized absolute lack of orderly efficiency in the offices of the council; that there has been no commensurate return in work for the salaries paid; that the conduct of office affairs has been chaotic and without a head; and that the amount of work accomplished by office attaches (except stenographers) has been on the amount of so-called 'bull.' To this might be added the personal opinion that the so-called secretary of the State Council is grossly incompetent. Due to the refusal of the vice-chairman to live at Sacramento, it has been necessary to employ practically double the office force which would be necessary were executive headquarters maintained at Sacramento. Neither office works at anywhere near its maximum efficiency, although were the supervision of State Council activities under a competent head, it would undoubtedly be necessary to increase this office force. From seemingly reliable sources, I am informed, that in the Sacramento office the entire force frequently goes for two or three days without performing work of any kind whatever. Although paid a salary of $250 to act as secretary of the State Council, the present incumbent for the past eight months has not performed duties at that office. In this respect I would call to your attention the fact that while the secretary of the State Council occupies the position of chairman of the State Four Minute speakers and poses as a Dollar-a-Year-Man, the publicity director has handled practically all secretarial work for the State Council since July 1, 1917."

PHYSICAL COMBAT MARKS DEPARTURE

The departure of Owen from the headquarters of the council in San Francisco was marked by a physical combat, according to the statement of Owen, who says:

"After attempting to force my stenographer to transcribe her notes of a personal, confidential letter I had written to members of the Council of National Defense," Owen said last night, "Naftzger dismissed me Monday morning because I refused to give him a copy of the letter. He and his son, a captain in the army, and S. H. Westfall, Naftzger's assistant, attempted to take away my keys before I left the office."

Owen also asserts that Naftzger did not resign, but was dismissed after Owen's letter of resignation was received by the governor.

In his letter of resignation directed to Governor Stephens and marked "personal and confidential," Owen says:

"I herewith tender you my resignation as director of publicity and as assistant secretary of the State Council of Defense, the same to take effect on May 1, or as soon before or after that date as you may see fit to accept it, or at such time as my leaving will not interfere with or handicap the carrying on of certain war publicity propaganda in which I am co-operat-

GIVES HIGH CREDIT TO U. S. ENGINEERS

LONDON, April 10.—But for the gallant defense put up by General Airey's improvised army, in which American railway engineers played a prominent part, says the correspondent on the western front of the Daily Mail, the enemy might have pushed through to Amiens in the first few days of his great attack. The improvised force held an important stretch of the front against furious onslaughts.

There was no doubt in anybody's mind that they would hold on grimly as long as breath remained in their bodies," says the correspondent. "It was not until it had been in the field for some time that the force was able to get artillery. But as soon as they had it they certainly used it to good advantage."

"In the beginning, however, it was the men who held the enemy back with their bodies."

The sector involved began at the River Somme near Sally-Laurette and extended southwest to about the Luce river.

Foreign Paper Law Withdrawn by Lodge

WASHINGTON, April 10.—Confronted by determined opposition, Senator Lodge this afternoon withdrew his amendment closing the mails to German language newspapers unless they carried an English translation of all printed matter.

Senator Nelson of Minnesota called the amendment a "slap in the face to loyal Germans," while Senator Gallinger, the Republican leader, declared it was "reading on dangerous ground."

Line with several government bureaus. Severing my connection with the State Council of Defense, I believe it is my patriotic duty to lay before you certain conditions and facts as appertaining to the administrative heads of that body."

OWEN'S CHARGES ARE SUMMARIZED

"Summarizing them briefly, I wish to make the following statement:

"No. 1.—That the war work of the State Council of Defense since the time of its organization, on April 6, 1917, has been interfered with, frequently prevented and made entirely subservient and secondary to political purposes and expediences."

"No. 2.—That there is good and justifiable reason to believe that there are strong pro-German sympathies existing within the administrative department of the State Council, that such alleged pro-German sympathies are and have been permitted from the conception of the State Council to interfere with and prevent the efficient carrying out of numerous phases of their activity, and thus eliminating any alleged pro-Germanism which may be said to exist within the council's administrative department, the most charitable judgment which can be exercised must stamp the administration of the affairs of the State Council as being grossly inefficient."

"No. 3.—That funds appropriated by the State Legislature for the use of the State Council of Defense in carrying on war work have been misappropriated and grossly wasted and that the amount of the office and expenditures of the State Council by the State Board of Control in November last was not a true and honest audit statement of the financial affairs of the State Council of Defense."

Kaufmans and Hotel at Outs "Scene" Followed by Departure

Following a spirited verbal battle last night, in which Mrs. George Kaufman, wife of the civil service board member and politician, remonstrated a chambermaid with a water pitcher, and threatened, according to her statement, to slap the face of Maurice Schenck, assistant manager, Kaufman and his wife today are preparing to leave the Hotel Oakland.

Kaufman says he refuses to stay longer, and his wife adds that "The place is not fit for Pedro, my parrot, to live in." Manager Schenck says they were ordered out by the hotel management. "I ordered Kaufman to leave as soon as possible," says Schenck, "because he said that because of the hotel being in the presence of ladies." Chief Clerk "Jim" Madison confirms Schenck's statement. The Kaufmans had been guests at the hotel for five years.

"The whole trouble is because we did not get service and because we were continually insulted by the help," said Mrs. Kaufman. Last night came the end. I was going for a pitcher of water, and stopped to say good evening to a chambermaid. The head chambermaid came along and ordered me not to speak to her. It's a lucky thing for her she got the pitcher out of my hand or I'd have let her have it in the face."

"Schenck would not listen when we complained, and always gave me a nasty sarcastic bow when I passed. So, when he was particularly nasty I went down to slap his face, but he kept away. Believe me, I'd have slapped his face right so last night George went down and told them a few things, and then ordered up our trunks."

Mrs. Strom Secures Divorce From Spouse

Jostling on a sailing yacht brought Mrs. Strom and her husband, Carl E. Strom, according to testimony introduced by the wife in a suit for divorce heard today by Judge Joseph S. Koford. She was given a decree and $25 a month for the support of the minor child.

Mrs. Strom told the judge that too frequently on Saturday nights her husband sailed away on the yacht and did not return till Monday morning, and that when he did return he was generally "under the weather."

On Christmas eve when she had arranged a family reunion he came home intoxicated and reversed the order by spilling the wine, she said. The family live at 1179 Regent street, Alameda, and the defendant conducts a business at 1507 Park street.

BAWLS HIM OUT.

Kaufman says that he decided to leave on account of unsatisfactory service.

"I bawled Schenck out good and proper, right in the lobby before the guests," he said. I told him my wife could not eat the muck they sent up to us, and I told him there were spies in the kitchen. Then I ordered up my trunks. I am going to live at a San Francisco hotel, where a decent man can live."

TO SAN FRANCISCO.

Kaufman says that he will move to San Francisco as soon as possible.

Mrs. Kaufman has been known before for her determination and aggressive nature. At a political meeting at the Auditorium during the recall campaign she suddenly arose on the floor of the meeting and gave enemies of Mayor Davis and her husband a severe tongue lashing. Several months ago, in the Hotel Oakland, she assailed J. J. Mooney verbally for his attitude in politically opposing her husband.

WOULD HAVE CITY ERECT MONUMENT

For the purpose of inducing the city council to acquire and erect in some prominent location the Star-Spangled monument, formerly exhibited at the Panama-Pacific Exposition, in honor of Oakland men now in the Army and Navy, a number of women are circulating a petition in favor of the plan, among the different women's clubs. This petition will later be presented to the council. A committee of five members of the Fruitvale Women's Club appointed by the club's president to investigate the proposal have already given it their approval.

The Star-Spangled Banner monument was designed and executed by A. Sedgwick, Spanish-American war veteran, and was awarded the medal of honor at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. The monument recites the nation's earliest part, its development, its present greatness and its remarkable progress. The main column has thirteen revisions, corresponding to the thirteen original states of the country. There are reliefs of George Washington, Christopher Columbus, Colonel George W. Goethals and of Balboa. On the top is mounted the American eagle, the symbol of justice, fighting a dragon, symbol of evil.

The monument is 18 feet high from base to the wingtips of the eagle, and the base is 4 feet square. The monument can be illuminated from the inside and used as an electrolite.

EX-OAKLAND MAN KILLED IN FRANCE BATTLE

Charles F. Chuck, formerly of this city, was killed while fighting with the British in France within about a week of the death of his brother, William S. Chuck of the American army. Chuck was killed in the 72d Infantry in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. Word of his death was received by a third brother, J. C. Chuck, a traveling salesman of 1540 Madison street.

Charles F. Chuck was formerly a shoe salesman in this city. Fourteen months ago he tried to enlist in the American army. He was 6 feet 3 inches in height, and therefore well qualified in the matter of inches, but was rejected because he was underweight. He then enlisted in the 72d Infantry in the Meuse-Argonne offensive. Word of his death was received by a third brother, J. C. Chuck, a traveling salesman of 1540 Madison street.

ARMY TALENT TO FACE NAVY ENTERTAINERS

Vaudeville, amateur and professional, now in the service of Uncle Sam, are rehearsing for a contest at the Auditorium Opera-house Saturday evening, between Prestidito soldiers and marines from Aute Island. There are clever singers and dancers, actors and musicians among the men in training and these have prepared an exceptional program.

Well-known women will act as patronesses of the affair. George Knefe, manager of the Auditorium; Harry E. Cornell, manager of the Oakland Orpheum, and Charles Niemeyer, manager of the Pantages, will be judges. Several prizes will be awarded. The proceeds from the affair will go to the fund of the Oakland Defenders' Club. Soldiers and sailors will be admitted free. Colonel Lincoln Karmany and Mrs. Karmany from the marine camp will be guests of honor. Among the patronesses will be the following:
Mrs. John H. Ferine, Mrs. Thomas Mitchell Potter, Mrs. S. M. Marks, Mrs. Arthur O. Gott, Mrs. Frederick P. Cutting, Mrs. A. S. Larkey, Mrs. C. J. Youngberg, Mrs. De Ver McLarin, Mrs. Vera W. Hunter, Miss Joe E. Root, Mrs. Charles T. Rodolph, Mrs. Alexander Stewart, Mrs. W. H. Ketcham, Mrs. E. C. Cohn, Mrs. Lillian Brown Everts, Miss Florine Brown, Mrs. W. H. Byington, Mrs. V. J. Wilson, Mrs. George Rodolph and Miss Alene Edorf.

Dorothy Dalton, Mining Engineer, Is at the Kinema

DOROTHY DALTON.

The fashion in men's clothing this year seems to be khaki, but even Dorothy Dalton finds it necessary to wear it in her latest picture, "Love Me," which is at the Kinema all this week. Dorothy starts out as a mining engineer, but, as so often happens, love intervenes and she sheds the khaki for the delicate evening gown of New York "1918" style. But although she drops her costume of the rough-and-ready West, she by no means relinquishes her fight and vim which was bred into her there, and the things are made pretty lively for the smart set when Dorothy marries into one of the families composing it. Fatty Arbuckle has a score of new stunts in his latest comedy, "The Bell-Boy." It's the best comedy produced for months, say the critics.

SHORT SHRIEF WILL BE GIVEN ALIENS AT U.C.

German sympathizers and German propaganda will not be tolerated at the University of California. This was made plain by the board of regents of the university at its monthly meeting yesterday, when it was recommended and approved that the committee on the executive and finance committees last week in summarily dismissing from the faculty of the university I. W. D. Hack, assistant in chemistry, and Professor C. A. Forke of the department of oriental languages, for anti-American activities.

At the suggestion of Regent Livingston Jenkins, the board adopted a motion to institute a committee of five members whose duty it will be to investigate the war work of the university and the needs of the government along certain lines, with a view to discovering if it is possible in any way further to assist the government. President Benjamin Ide Wheeler was empowered by the board to delay the date of the opening of the fall semester if he sees fit, after he had stated that the present opening date in August would critically interfere with the harvesting of the season's crops, many students performing this work in the fields every year.

A summer session is to be maintained in Los Angeles for the first time this year, and the study of German will be eliminated in order not to compete with the public schools in that city which expelled German from their curriculum.

Three hundred dollars was appropriated by the board to further assist the teaching of the naval preparation course in the college, and $150 was appropriated for the assistance of the Military Information Bureau.

K. S. Heller of the German department of the university was mentioned by President Wheeler as being an alien whose conduct has been so irreproachable that he will be retained until the end of the college year, when he will leave the institution.

ROGER WILLIAMS DESCENDANT DIES

Mrs. George B. Allen, for many years a resident of Oakland is dead today as the result of a long illness. For some time past Mrs. Allen and her husband, Rev. George B. Allen, have resided in the Kings' maternal home and it was there that she died Tuesday afternoon. She was 83 years old having been born in Providence, Rhode Island, in December, 1834. Mrs. Allen came from a family prominent in Revolutionary days, and she was a descendant of Roger Williams. Her maternal grandfather was General William West, a brigade commander in the American army in the Revolutionary War.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen celebrated their sixtieth wedding anniversary last January. She leaves besides her husband five sons, Edward A. of Alameda, Dr. Reginald H. of Oakland, Harris S., and Lewis W., San Francisco, and William C., New York. There are nineteen grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Funeral services tomorrow will be private.

Rev. Mr. Allen was for some years pastor of the Episcopal church in Carson, Nevada. They came to Oakland in 1889.

Mess Attendants for Navy Reserve Wanted

The Naval Reserve force is in need of a number of colored waiters for immediate service both ashore and afloat. The rating given these men will be mess attendants, third class, and the pay $31 per month, with a clothing allowance of $50 with board and lodging, and medical and dental attention included, free.

The Naval Reserve is open only to American citizens, either by birth or holding second papers, between the ages of 18 and 35, who are physically unimpaired. Applicants who are draft age must first obtain release from their local boards giving them permission to volunteer, and must also present their registration cards for inspection. Apply to the Naval Reserve Enrolling Tent in City Hall Park, or to the Enrolling Office, 457 Market street, San Francisco, California.

Fellowship Social Is Given by Church

A patriotic fellowship social will be held this evening in the parlors of the First Congregational church and a general invitation is extended to friends of the church, young and old. Everyone is asked to be on hand to join in the singing of patriotic songs. During the evening an excellent program of music and readings will be given. Those participating will include Eugene Roland, B. H. Howard, Miss Jane Dickie, Miss Mollie Nicholson, Mrs. Anna Meracle, Miss Ethel Rice and Miss Jeanne Levy. Letters received from France will be read. The deaconesses and Ladies' Aid Society have charge of the refreshments. Eighteen members recently received into church membership will be the guests of honor.

May Move Telephone Exchange at City Hall

That provision be made in the next budget for approximately $1100 to be used for the purpose of moving the city hall telephone exchange from the main floor on the fourteenth street side to the mezzanine floor, was recommended by the Civil Service Board last night. The matter was the outcome of criticisms made against each other by several of the women operators affecting the efficiency of the work at the switchboard.

Complaints made to the board over the new salary schedule for operators led to an investigation, which has been continued for another week in an effort to bring about an adjustment of the entire situation.

ASK AMENDMENT

An amendment to the city charter providing for the tripartite system in the fire department, to be submitted at the next election, is being provided for in petitions now being circulated. The petitions are being circulated by the women's auxiliary of the Health club, a club composed largely of firemen, as the result of the refusal of the Civil Service Board to permit the firemen to solicit signatures.

Combing Won't Rid Hair of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.
Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.
You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.
You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Advertisement.

To Absorb Freckles And Other Blemishes

Every spring numerous inquiries are made by girls seeking some reliable recipe for removing freckles. Very favorable reports have been received from many who have used macerated wax during the freckle season. The wax seems to absorb unusual properties which completely absorb the freckles, with no harmful effect whatever. The complexion improves wonderfully, becoming as soft as a rose petal, and as delicately tinted. Get an ounce of ordinary macerated wax from your druggist's, spread a thin layer of it over the entire face every night for a while, washing this off in the morning. For rough, scabby skin, sallowness, blackheads, pimples and all cutaneous blemishes, this treatment is superior to any other.—Advertisement.

AIRMAN TO SING AT WAR MEETING

Barrel V. Cole, a young aviator, whose singing at the Greek Theater recently brought him loud acclaim, will be heard in the rousing war song, "The Sons of Liberty" and other vocal numbers at a meeting to be held under the auspices of the Sons and Daughters of Washington, a patriotic society, in Lincoln hall, Sunday afternoon. The meeting will be one of a series held by the society for the purpose of furthering the Americanization movement. The "Sons of Liberty" was composed by Madame Carusi and its martial strains are said to be particularly well suited to the baritone quality of young Cole's voice. He will be accompanied by Madame Carusi. Dr. Frank M. Sibley and Arthur Street, lecturer on current events, will each give interesting talks.

The program of last Sunday's meeting of the society was of more than usual interest from the fact that several who took part were descendants of signers of the Declaration of Independence. Principal Keyes of the Oakland high school and Fred L. Arbogast, who can each claim this distinction, were among the speakers.

Arbogast's talk on the Liberty Loan added new members to the Liberty Loan committee of the society. Mrs. Lewis B. Avery, chairman of the child welfare committee of the organization, explained what had been done for the children during the past year. The musical part of the evening was furnished by Miss Enid Wintlesley and Miss Adelaide Jacobsen, clever pupils of Ray Youngman.

Arrangements are being made by the society to secure Chabot hall as a meeting place.

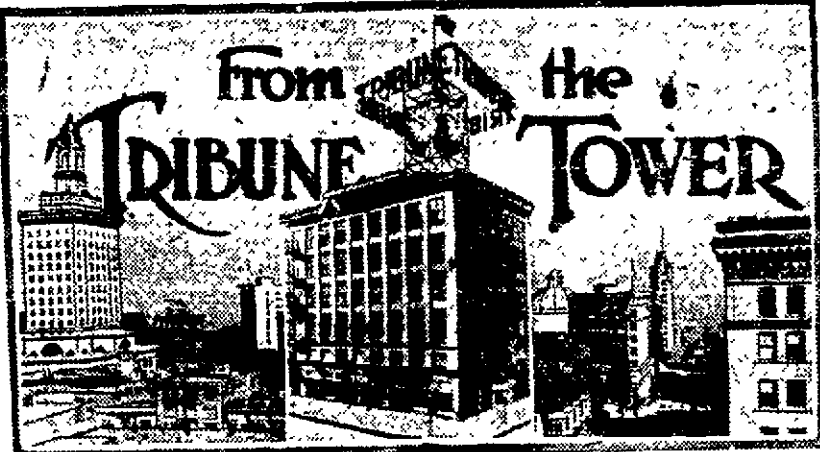

Convicts Want Terms Definitely Stated

Curtis W. Buckholz and M. L. Bucklin, serving indeterminate sentences in San Quentin for crimes committed prior to the enactment of the indeterminate sentence law, applied today to Superior Judge Quinn in the department where they were convicted, to have the term of their service definitely fixed. Buckholz was given eighteen months and Bucklin one year. Both are in for burglary.

The offense in each case was committed prior to the enactment of the law and sentence was given after the law went into effect. The ruling of the higher court was that in all such cases, of which there are 134 in the state, the provisions of the old law prevail. The men receive no credit for the time served, but their definite sentence was shortened to allow for the time served.

MODESTO RANCHER HERE.

Thomas Griffin, Modesto rancher and holder of wide interests in Stanislaus county, is at the Hotel Oakland while on a business visit to Oakland.

"Pete" Hanrahan goes out hunting every year. Nobody knows what he hunts for. But whatever it is, he seems to be satisfied for each year he goes. Last year he fell off a rock into Lake Talmac, or Talmac, or whatever the name is. He made a big splash and then a few ripples. After a bit he came up and a kind friend in the party sank a cant hook in "Pete" and brought him ashore.

"Hurt?" asked the friend. "Hanrahan spat out a huge mouthful of water. "Not a bit," he said. "I never swallowed a drop."

LEAVE IT TO DOCTORS TO TWIST A MAN!

Wilbur Walker of the Merchants' Exchange had an attack of rheumatism this winter. A friend dropped into the Exchange headquarters and found Walker growling at the weather.

"This is too bad," said the friend. "I'm sorry to find you like this."

"Yes," growled Walker, "and it's my doctor's fault, too."

"How's that?"

"Well, he cured me of rheumatism. And I couldn't tell when it was going to rain, and I went out without an umbrella and got wet and here I am with rheumatism again. Confound doctors, anyhow!"

DRAFT BOARD OFFICIAL HAS MANY TROUBLES

J. O. Greenan, secretary of Draft Board No. 4, had just finished an argument with a wild-eyed woman, who insisted that George, the family blossom, who stood six feet one inch in his socks, and had a back like a pump-handle, would be unable to withstand the rigors of training camp life.

"Her understanding of the selective service act," said Greenan, "is like the little girl's understanding of her Sunday school lesson."

"What was the text?" asked her father, as he sank the knife in the Sunday roast.

"All about a stomach," replied the small miss in a shocked voice.

The father laid down his carving knife and shifted his plate to cover the spot of gravy he had dropped on the table cloth.

"You must be wrong," he said. "No one said the little girl's text was Abdomen, Abdomen, my son Abdomen."

LETTER LONG—BUT ONLY ASKS A JOE

There is nothing like being frank. Especially when seeking employment. It helps everybody to get together. Both employer and employee understand each other from the beginning. For instance the letter from Charles Ward de West to the editor of the TRIBUNE received in the office today. The letter reads:

"Could you, would you and can you, place me at any honorable labor in your new building?" "I am not asking anything of a literary nature as I don't like your paper—pardon the frankness. It is too dry and it needs spicing. Few editors are catching on to the new age we're living in. Pardon my new circumlocution."

"I started out to ask for a position. I have been trying since last September, but to no avail. Yet a wife and children must eat—or die—and one is about as expensive as the other; and both are natural. So why fear hunger or death? I am neither spiteful nor greedy. Hence—always optimistic! Anger irritates and wastes energy. Study children, chickens. Study all animal life, vegetable, whether foul or not. Then what are we? Insignificant! Assigned by Fate to take our chances and go according to our circumstances."

"Again I am digressing. I can do many things in your building. Many things like talent we inherit. So without favors treat me on my merit. The envious idler looks next door at his neighbor who prospers fair from honest labor. Why envy any body? Even a corpse. What poor logic to begrudge another. The lever comes along. I have yet to find a phase of life without a counterbalance. There is always reaction."

"If you can't help don't injure. Spleen rewards are short-lived. If you can't help me pass it long to them that can. Otherwise Fate will assign me. Then why should I be angry at you? My new son, Charles W. de West. Get Your Feet—The Place to Make Your Bed. Pay full dues where it duly belongs. Then harvest when ripe."

"Philosophically yours, "CHARLES W. DE WEST."

TELEGRAPHERS THREATEN STRIKE

WASHINGTON, April 10.—A walk-out of telegraph operators is threatened on or about April 23.

Information to this effect has been brought to the attention of Secretary of Labor Wilson by a committee of operators, headed by C. H. Ludwig, member of the eastern general committee of the Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America.

The charge is made that the companies, by locking out union employees, are hindering government war business. Union men above the draft age, it is declared, are refused employment, while the companies at the same time seek exemption from military service for non-union operators of draft age on the plea of industrial necessity.

The union leaders demand that the government force the companies to arbitrate the workers' demands just as it has forced other employers engaged in vital war industries to arbitrate.

A call has been issued for "Organization Day," on April 23, at which time, it is indicated, the ultimatum of the workers may be formally presented to the companies.

Social Club Honors Its Soldier Members

Arthur Kaupert, member of the Buffalo Social Club, was given a farewell banquet by his fellow club members this week on the occasion of his departure for Camp Lewis. The same affair served as a welcome home for Theodore Mire, former member of Company B, recently discharged from service for injuries received at the Front. More than fifteen members of the club are in service. Henry Flynn, a brother of James F. Flynn, the club president, being with the American troops in France. Arthur Dannheim and Stephen Wynn were chairmen of the evening.

WOMEN TELL MARITAL WOES.

Mary Chessa alleges in a divorce complaint filed today that another woman won the affection of her husband, Vittorio Chessa. Julia E. Bartwell alleges desertion and asks for custody of the child in a complaint against Chester L. A Mean Look.

There are people right in this vicinity who seem to always have a mean look and a crabbed, fault-finding disposition. This may be due to a disordered stomach, constipation or a headache resulting from these disorders. When such is the case a few doses of Chamberlain's Tablets will soon make them cheerful and happy. These tablets have not only much success in the treatment of these ailments, but for sale by Osgood Bros. Drug Stores.

LAST NIGHT OF 'MISTER ANTONIO'

"Mister Antonio," Booth Tarkington's "Comedy of Cheesecake," will be seen for the last time in Oakland tonight at the Auditorium Theater, with Otis Skinner, the distinguished American character actor, playing what critics believe is his greatest role.

Those who saw Skinner in "Kismet" a few years ago swore that this was his greatest offering, and a short time later held that another was even greater. Then comes "Mister Antonio," by which it would seem that Skinner's art is developing with every successive play he presents. Or perhaps it is because he plays so widely different a character so perfectly each time.

Otis Skinner as the happy-go-lucky Italian has a role written for him specially, and one that stands out among the remarkable bits in American drama. The play is one of heart interest—but the dramatic climax is not lacking—and there are many laughs, too, in the piece. Otis Skinner is appearing under Charles Frohman's management with the original New York cast of the play, including Ruth Rose, Joseph Brenna, Robert Harrison, and others.

DANDRUFF MAKES HAIR FALL OUT

A Small Bottle of "Danderine" Keeps Hair Thick, Strong, Beautiful.

Girls! Try This! Doubles Beauty of Your Hair in a Few Moments.

Within ten minutes after an application of Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes, but really new hair—growing all over the scalp.

A little Danderine immediately doubles the beauty of your hair. No difference how dull, faded, brittle and scraggy. Just moisten a cloth with Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. The effect is amazing—your hair will be light, fluffy and wavy, and have an appearance of abundance, an incomparable lustre, softness and luxuriance.

Get a small bottle of Danderine for a few cents at any drug store or toilet counter, and prove that your hair is as pretty and soft as it should be. It has been neglected or injured by careless treatment—that's all—you surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine.—Advertisement.

Bounding Health

An over-worked, run-down body and brain can't be spurred back to normal by tonics that are mere stimulants. The whole system has to be repaired from its foundation—the red blood cells. When they are depleted, your system is off color, your capacity for work and pleasure diminished. Gude's Pepto-Mangan will help to build them up again.

Gude's Pepto-Mangan "The Red Blood Builder"

Gude's Pepto-Mangan is not a mere stimulant, but the most valuable of blood foods. Gude's Pepto-Mangan feeds the red blood cells with just the elements they need. It restores your appetite and color, increases your happiness, fills you with new purpose and power.

Study this picture so you will know how genuine Pepto-Mangan looks.

Thousands of physicians endorse and prescribe Gude's Pepto-Mangan for nursing mothers, invalids, convalescents, weak, anemic children, thin-blooded old people, and over-worked men. It is exceedingly pleasant to taste and easily digested. A splendid general tonic and appetizer.

FRIENDLY WARNING—There are many imitations of Pepto-Mangan on the market, but you can be sure of getting the genuine if it bears the name "Gude" and is put up in the bottle and sealed package as pictured here. Ask for it by its full name—"Gude's Pepto-Mangan." For sale at all drug stores.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 10, 1918.

FOOD SHORTAGE PROPAGANDA.

Once more the propaganda of a food shortage in Germany is active; or is it merely a continuance of the activity started three years ago and which has never stopped? The public is being told that the German people are in such dire straits for lack of nourishing food that they may be expected to break into open rebellion against the Hohenzollern government at any moment.

The same kind of publicity in favor of Germany has been put out at regular intervals since the first winter of the war. There was no possibility that Germany would hold out through another winter, we were told. There was a famine in pork, in beef, in butter fats, in potatoes, in cereals. The physical standards were destined to fall so low that it would be impossible for the Prussian military master to drive the soldiers into battle or to find recruits to make good losses.

America was plainly expected to succumb to the imputation that it was unnecessary to organize a great military force and send it against Germany; the Allies would win in a short time without American aid. This was Germany's clumsy lie.

Each of the bearers of the tale of German hardships and food shortage and seething rebellion was the "last to leave the enemy countries." Others may be expected to appear, and they, too, will be "the last." But there has not been a single bread riot, a single industrial disturbance, a mutiny of sailors, or peace demonstration in Germany to emasculate the army of Von Hindenburg of its strength to strike a serious blow at the Allies on the western front.

Have we not had enough experience with these propagandists of food shortages and unrest among the Central Powers to be safely on guard? Surely Americans realize by this time that Germany will be beaten by great armies, equipped with the best of the implements of warfare in inexhaustible quantity; by shot, shell and the bayonet. Men and material only will beat the Hun.

WHY WE SHOOT.

An admirably comprehensive program of discussions has been arranged for the State convention of California high school principals, which is to be held in Oakland tomorrow, Friday and Saturday. The range of subjects is wide and the printed schedule of subjects shows at a glance that considerable attention has been given to the special influences of the war on educational matters.

There is one subject, however, which ought to be discussed at this convention and at every other gathering of teachers which is not on the program, unless it is disguised under some other title; that subject might be called "Instructing the Young Idea Why We Are at War." There might be a number of sub-titles, such as "How to Do This," "How Much Effort Should Be Devoted to It," "The Importance of the Subject in the Public Schools Curriculum."

"New Problems of Democracy and Education" is one of the subjects scheduled for discussion tomorrow. This might suggest consideration of the reason America is fighting at this time. But the twenty minutes allowed for this address is proof that it will not.

However, the subject cannot be long evaded or the necessity for its consideration unrecognized. Adults and school children alike should know the principal facts about the war. Every citizen, young and old, should know why the institutions of free political government set up by our forefathers 140 years ago are assailed and why we must fight to defend them; every one should know all the issues involved in this conflict.

Schools throughout the country must examine their resources and determine what they require to help children to understand the war. The information must be reduced to teachable form. A plan must be arranged under which other subjects may yield a part of their normal time to the new need.

The duty of seeing that the "why we shoot course" is included among the facilities for instruction devolves upon the school teachers of the country. It is their duty and opportunity to render the nation valuable service. The teacher's goal of producing an intelligent and honest citizen cannot be attained unless the children of the country are taught concerning a current subject than which none other in all history has ever been equal in importance.

LET SHIPS BE THE TEST.

Frenzied publicity has raised up a lot of hopes in connection with the war which later have been struck down with disappointment. An instance of this is the failure of the airplane program to reach as high a point in actual production of fighting planes as the people were injudiciously led to believe not only possible but reasonably certain. This is not good for a favorable condition of the public mind.

Just at present there is much talk of the production of concrete ships on a significant scale. The talk has been going on for months. Every newspaper editor in the country has had to throw several hundred pounds of publicity matter on concrete ships into the waste basket. Violently disregarding of the record of experiments in concrete ships, this publicity campaign treated the subject as a new one.

Concrete merchant vessels capable of crossing the ocean and performing the services until now exclusively allotted to wood and steel may be practicable. All the evidence is in favor of such a development. There is no barrier, so far as can be discerned, to the complete success of the concrete idea. Building ships of this type would utilize an entirely new material; it would lessen the heavy demands for wood and steel and ought to shorten the period usually consumed in producing a ship.

Everyone hopes that the concrete ship will be an unqualified success, and for several reasons. It would give us more ships, it would give them quickly, it would stimulate an industry that apparently has no limit to its capacity, it would utilize another class of craftsmen other than steel workers and ship carpenters in producing ocean tonnage.

But let the demonstration be made with ships, safely navigated with holds filled with cargo. Producers of concrete will enter upon their anticipated era of prosperity just as quickly and the people will be saved the danger of disappointment through having their hopes raised to an impossible height by inordinate promises on paper.

COULD BE MADE EASIER.

The Wallman Review of financial, commercial and industrial conditions of March 29th says that it has become apparent that the receipts of federal income and excess profits taxes are likely to prove far in excess of the estimates made by the congressional committees and the Treasury Department. It believes that when the records are compiled it will be found that the receipts from these two sources of revenue will have brought the government not $2,500,000,000, as forecast by the authorities in Washington, but a sum approximating between $4,000,000,000 and $5,000,000,000. And the Review observes:

"These are gigantic sums and it would be a great shock, both to the business public and to the banks, to be obliged to pay them into the Treasury at one time, and the government should give the public the advantage of paying the money over a more or less extended period rather than in one lump sum. The adoption of this method would not only render the burden easier for the taxpayer, but the strain on the banks would also be considerably reduced. It would aid the money market and at the same time the government would be receiving the money as and when it would be required instead of piling up an enormous idle fund in the Treasury."

The fact that the third Liberty Loan carries no conversion privilege is construed by many to mean that the Secretary of the Treasury has fixed upon 4 1/4 per cent as the limit of the government's borrowing rate, just as in England 5 per cent has been fixed upon as the top interest level. That the third loan is inconvertible, however, does not affect the convertibility of the first two bond issues. The 3 1/2 per cent bonds of the first Liberty Loan are convertible into any subsequent government loan issue of a higher rate, while the 4 per cent bonds of the second loan, including the 3 1/2 per cent bonds which have been converted into the so-called "conversion 4s," are only convertible into the third Liberty Loan bonds. Therefore the holders of the first loan 3 1/2 per cent bonds may convert their securities into any subsequent issues, while the holders of the second loan 4 per cent bonds must convert their securities into the third loan bonds in order to obtain the extra quarter per cent interest.

AMERICA'S WARNING.

No American can possibly misread the meaning of General Wood's statement to the Senate Military Committee—or those portions of it that have been allowed to reach the public. The meaning of it is that America's military preparations—great as we have thought them—are inadequate to the tremendous task before us, and would be inadequate even if those preparations were complete.

If the National Army now in cantonments were in France it would not be big enough to play the part our allies have, in reason, expected of us. We must broaden the foundations upon which our army is building if expectations of it for the future are to be met, and that can be accomplished only by the immediate adoption of the universal training and service principle. We ought now to be training the army that is to follow the present selective army—now in cantonments—to France. General Wood has not underrated the job before us in suggesting that two million men in France and two million more in training camps are not too many. There can be no end to this war until Germany is thoroughly beaten, and it is only the truth to say that Germany is today showing great strength.—Kansas City Star.

NOTES and COMMENT

The difference in the juror's point of view is illustrated by a comparison of the attitude of the jury that tried a man in this city and that which tried a woman at Visalia. The latter acquitted off-hand, while the former disagreed, with nine for conviction. The unhygienic and impartial person is likely to say that the Oakland case was equally deserving of leniency.

Though a Nat Goodwin divorce has ceased to be an item of news, the recent one will have to be put down in the court records and assigned its consecutive number, five.

The Kaiser has gone to Rumania to see about a peace pact. Of course, that is more important than the mighty drive on the west front. It is reasonably suggested that the western drive is not prospering, and that if it shall collapse the Kaiser, by being somewhere else, can have it said that he was not there.

The Huns persist in claiming that the war was started because the allied powers wanted to destroy Germany. There may be some in Rumania who accept this presentation of the case; there can't be any anywhere else.

When sheep sell by the carload at auction for 42 cents a pound there does not have to be an extended inquiry as to the high price of chops.

The artists are doing the hammer-and-songs act as to pictures hung at the Art Palace. They have that nimble faculty for disagreeing that is attributed to another and more serious profession.

The recent tenacity of the allies has spoiled the Kaiser's plans, just as the obstinacy of the Belgians interrupted the program at the outset. In both instances the estimates were lamentably erroneous.

Toasting the Kaiser is not safe celebrating in this country. There is always likely to be somebody around who understands the language and who is endowed with patriotism, and the tendency is growing to make it a serious thing for those who indulge in the practice.

The robbery of the specie bank in San Francisco was so unusual that the conclusion that it was an inside job was natural. Still, it will continue to be a surprise how three men could rob twenty-three in midday, within two blocks of police headquarters, and get across the continent with the spoils before a roundup.

The Kentucky woman who sent forty pounds of chicken livers to William Howard Taft may have been acting out an ancient conception of a tidy memorial.

The San Diego Union has discovered Stitt Wilson, whom it reports as saying: "The judgment day is today, and tomorrow, and every day; and hell is where we are when we are unkind."

In an El Paso floral shop hangs the following ultra patriotic sign: "We are at war. If you are a German, a pro-German or a pacifist we don't want your business. Now or for the next 1000 years. Keep out."

The Red Bluff News fixes the standard of its faith: "As for us, we feel as certain of the success of the allies as we do of the election of Ed Lennan and Billy Cahoone tomorrow. And greater faith than this hath no man."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

The president of the University of California objects to the German professors discharged from that institution being spoken of as disloyal. He declares that "inimical" is the proper word. Showing what a blessed thing is the English language in times of stress.—Red Bluff News

The newspaper reporter performs a valuable service that is not always appreciated by the public so highly as it should be. The typical American reporter is keenly intelligent, tirelessly energetic, unfailingly dependable and remarkably resourceful. He does a big work well in circumstances that offend him in his soul. The faithful reporter has no easy task. The intelligence and accuracy with which his work is done, often under high pressure and in the face of great difficulties, entitle his functioning to the respect of the public and the appreciation of the millions of American newspaper readers who have the benefit of the excellent output of the reporter's assiduous brain.—Grass Valley Union

Korean mackerel, salted in Kobe, Japan, shipped across the ocean to Vancouver, paying exorbitant transportation charges and a commission, and then freighted to New England for distribution at $30 a barrel, while Irish mackerel brings $33 in Boston, and New England mackerel $45—what is the answer? Here it is, according to report: The Korean mackerel are caught at less expense, the production cost being one-tenth that of New England. Duty under a protective tariff law, 1 cent per pound, free under the present Underwood law. Fifty keels of this Korean mackerel have just been received in New England, sent in as a Japanese tender for trade.—San Bernardino Sun

Julius Caesar, in his Commentaries, wrote of the Hun of old in much the same strain that chroniclers of today write. Caesar tells how the Huns swept across the Rhine and laid waste a tract of fair land several miles in extent, and he remarks upon the wantonness and thoroughness of the destruction, which was unusual even in those barbarous times. Caesar also speaks of Hun dishonor, deceit and trickery. A Hunnish chieftain arranged a truce with the Roman consul, and at the meeting sought to kill or capture him, but Caesar was suspicious and brought a guard of his famous Tenth legion, which saved him.—Richmond Record-Herald

THE MASTER OF HIS FATE

TODAY 20 YEARS AGO

Rev. George W. Sweeney of Chicago, formerly pastor of the First Christian church of this city, returned here on a visit with his wife.

Fire threatened the destruction of the Best Manufacturing Works in San Leandro. Heroic work by the San Leandro fire department under Chief Dave Ury prevented the spread of the flames. The damage amounted to about $300.

Because of an anticipated holdup between Goshen and Fresno, the Los Angeles Express, which arrived at the Oakland pier, made part of the run from the south under protection of police.

Easter was celebrated in the different east bay churches.

The Central Christian church, which Rev. Edwards Davis established, passed out of existence.

A SPORT AND AN INDUSTRY.

THE AWAKENING.

From East to West, from South to North
America sends its fighters forth;
To shatter the strength of autocracy.
To make the world safe for democracy.
Let the tyrant tremble, his day is past
And the dawn of freedom is here at last.

His people listened with fear and awe
To their tyrant's word as the highest law;

But America now is breaking the spell
And is sounding autocracy's funeral knell.
Let the tyrant tremble, his day is done
For freedom's armies are marching on.

The drums are rolling, the bugles call:

To arms! To arms! You fighters, all!
Battle for freedom, fight for right,
Crush forever the tyrant's might!
May God be with you on land and sea
Till the chains are broken, the world is free!

COLLEGE ATHLETIC SQUABBLES TO BE DROPPED AFTER WAR

PERCY AND FERDIE--Percy Believes in Conservation, Even to the Seconds

By H. A. MacGILL

Creator of the Hall-Run Boys

California-Stanford and St. Mary's-Santa Clara to Revive Former Relations

Cessation of Athletic Activities Now Will Pave Way For Better Sport Later.

By CARL E. BRAZIER.

Revival of all college athletics on the basis of the days before such things as strained collegiate relations were known will come at the end of the war. That is the understanding that has been halfway reached by all the colleges and that is the ultimate aim that is behind the movement started by Santa Clara and Stanford in abolishing all but interclass athletics until after the war is over. St. Mary's college has fallen in line with an announcement of a similar intention to cut down all college athletics after the present semester, and California is practically sure to do likewise.

Several months ago the prediction was made in these columns that college athletics would be minimized if the war continued for any lengthy period. At that time The TRIBUNE suggested a conference of all coast college athletic representatives with a view to discussing wartime conditions. The response received to this suggestion inspired the prediction that intercollegiate athletics would not survive through the war and that there would be no possibility of such a conference until it came time to discuss the revival of athletics on the pre-war basis.

California has not yet fallen in line with a formal announcement of intentions to curtail athletics to interclass affairs. In this delay California is risking an adverse public sentiment on top of that which she has already brought upon herself by her attitude in the proposed revival of full relations with Stanford a few months ago. Acting Graduate Manager Booth says that as far as he knows plans will be made to go ahead with the football schedule with the northwestern universities next fall; but this does not mean that plans may not be already under way to call off that schedule. Public sentiment will be against all kinds of intercollegiate sports next fall if the war is still in progress, and California will do well to fall in line behind Santa Clara, Stanford and St. Mary's.

When it does come time to talk of a revival of intercollegiate athletics on the coast, then public sentiment will get into play again. The chances are that the revival will be on the basis of the pre-war basis. But if there is any trace of the old spirit left, the public will step in and demand that the institutions step together for after all it is the outside public support that keeps the major sports going in the colleges on the coast and the public can not appreciate the fine points of technicalities and arguments that keep Santa Clara teams from being willing to play St. Mary's teams and that keep California from being willing to meet Stanford on a 50-50 basis when it comes to cleaning up past differences.

Friday's California-Stanford freshman baseball game, and the variety baseball game and dual track and field meet on Saturday will be the last big collegiate sport events on the coast until after the war. Word from the northwest and from the south is that the colleges there will follow the example of Santa Clara and Stanford and confine athletic activities within their own gates, so it looks as though somebody out at California should come out with a similar announcement before the world gets the impression that the public sense that it is a case of California being the last one to adopt the policy.

The present may mean a loss of intercollegiate athletics, but the public will welcome that loss in the knowledge that a more clear-cut organization that will make intercollegiate athletics mean something more than a problem of solving domestic differences. The rest will do intercollegiate athletics a lot of good.

Shipyard Teams Line Up Strong To Start Race

Bill Kenworthy Loses Spencer, But Has Enough Talent to Prevent Worry.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

Although Bill Kenworthy, manager of the Hanlon shipyard baseball team, will regret the loss of Ted Spencer, who is going back to the Detroit Tigers, Bill will not be much worried about his backstop department as he will be well taken care of with Pat Kihlunen, the veteran Oakland and Stockton player, on his list. In fact, Kenworthy was trying to map out a way to keep Kihlunen and Spencer playing regularly, and he was figuring on using them in turn back of the plate and at third base. Spencer's departure will not weaken the Hanlon team a notch, for Kenworthy has a good man to place at third base in this fellow Wotell, who a couple of seasons ago played with the Los Angeles Coast League club. Kenworthy has more players than he knows what to do with, and he was thinking of pulling himself out of the shortstop position and letting Clyde Wares take care of it.

There is still a chance that Bill will forsake Bill Kenworthy, manager of the Hanlon shipyard baseball team, and do some pitching for his team. Bill was a pitcher before he came to the Coast League, and even then he leveled a few home runs. He took a trip to the Eastern League, Kenworthy has more players than he knows what to do with, and he was thinking of pulling himself out of the shortstop position and letting Clyde Wares take care of it.

Jack Quinn in Great Shape in 4-0 Tiger Win

Angels' Wings Are Clipped With Only Two Hits Made Off Vernon Heaver.

LOS ANGELES, April 10.—Jack Quinn, the veteran pitcher of the Vernon Tigers, is today tied for the league's best pitching honors with Walter Levernay and Ole Crandall, each of whom has two wins to his credit. Yesterday afternoon the Vernon Tigers opened their first series before the southern fans, and Quinn was picked by Manager Bill Esch to do the taming of the Angels. Esch made a very good selection in Quinn, for he was never in better shape since coming to the coast.

Two hits were the best that the Angels could find for him, and the Tigers walked through to a 4 to 0 win over the Angels while the band from the Submarine Naval Base played the national air in honor of the first game of the season.

Fittery was in the box for the Angels, and although the box score shows that he had only five hits made off him, he has hardly any one but himself to blame for defeat.

Fittery got by until the third inning, when the Tigers went out in the lead for two runs, enough to win any ball game of the season.

Quinn, first man up in the inning, worked Fittery for a walk; Daley fled to the outfield, and it looked like it would be a one-run game.

Quinn, however, will be several other feature bouts that are considerably above the standard that once prevailed in the fight game around the bay.

Jimmy Duffy and Kid Musson, a northwest boy who has been cleaning them all up in the northwest with the exception of one youngster who travels under the name of Alex Trambitas.

If Duffy can live up to expectations and beat Musson tonight, Duffy will be featured as a special event, and the best boys in his class will be brought from the northwest and from the south.

Also Simpson has K. O. Krusovky all lined up for a bout next week with Bartling Ortega, but if Spud Murphy should happen to step in tonight and beat Frank Barrieau, there will be a chance at Ortega before Krusovky.

In either case, Al Sommers is in line for the northwest star for a message to come here for a series of bouts and from among Ortega, Krusovky, Murphy and Barrieau, there will be plenty of opponents available for Sommers.

Tom Cahalan, the bargain hunter, will have to look somewhere else for a message to come here for a series of bouts and from among Ortega, Krusovky, Murphy and Barrieau, there will be plenty of opponents available for Sommers.

Philips, the champion, will have to look somewhere else for a message to come here for a series of bouts and from among Ortega, Krusovky, Murphy and Barrieau, there will be plenty of opponents available for Sommers.

Emeryville Club to Start Setting Fast Pace Tonight In Fight-Card Competition

Bay Fans Will Have Some of the Best Cards They Have Ever Had in Next Few Weeks.

For the second time since the first of the year, the sound of padded gloves bouncing off chins and elbows will be heard at the Emeryville open air arena tonight. It will be the first open air evening boxing card of the year around the bay, the only other Emeryville venture this year having been the Washington's birthday matinee program. But now that Matchmaker Tommy Simpson has really come out of his seclusion with a fight card for tonight, he does not propose to lose any opportunity to make up for lost time. Simpson has not come out with a definite announcement as yet, but he gets the proper kind of encouragement from the fans tonight he plans to stage a show every week at the Emeryville arena.

Now if Tommy goes through with this plan of a show every week, he will back up against stiff competition the very first night, for next week is the show-week of the shipyard boys who are staging bouts every other week at the Auditorium.

Simpson knows that the shipyard boys are setting him a stiff pace and he is preparing to get right in and a little pace-setting himself. On tonight's card are several feature bouts and on the Emeryville card.

Feature bouts that are considerably above the standard that once prevailed in the fight game around the bay.

Jimmy Duffy and Kid Musson, a northwest boy who has been cleaning them all up in the northwest with the exception of one youngster who travels under the name of Alex Trambitas.

TONIGHT'S FIGHT CARD.
Spud Murphy vs. Frank Barrieau.
Jimmy Duffy vs. Kid Musson.
Joe White vs. Eddie Rose.
Joe Leopold vs. Shell McCool.
Wild Willie Webb vs. Billy Shado vs. Young Turner.
Johnny Nunes vs. Jerry O'Keefe.
Eddie Hines vs. Tony Freeman.
First bout starts at 8:30 o'clock at Emeryville open-air arena.

There are plenty of the fans who figure that Murphy will beat Barrieau tonight at that. For the Spud is up and coming all the time and has all kinds of ambition to get up there with the best of them. This does not mean that Barrieau is through by any means; but Frank will never get any better than he is, and they say that he is talking of retiring from the fight game and giving his attention to some property which needs a little more of his time.

There will really be three feature bouts on tonight's card outside of the main event, and the chances are that any one of these three will offer the fans more excitement than the main battle.

Jimmy Duffy and Kid Musson can be depended upon to put up a great little scrap; the fans have seen what Duffy can do, and Musson comes with a reputation of being a real fighter. Give the fans faith in him. Joe White and Eddie Rose are known to the fans and need no argument in favor of the theory that they will be out there fighting. Joe Leopold comes from Denver with a reputation recognized among the coast fans, and Shell McCool is also a known quantity.

All of these boys are in line for future bouts at Emeryville and there is every indication for them to get out and battle.

Tommy Simpson's tips up and down the coast may have deprived the bay fight fans of a lot of entertainment in the last few months, but there is one benefit which the fans will derive from these trips. Tommy has now been around enough to see and hear a few things about some of these outside boxers.

High School Gossip

Vernon and Technical high baseball teams are billed to fight it out at Bay View this afternoon in the Alameda County High School league, but the match will be postponed until next week.

Most of the league's games this week are centered around the shipyard boys who are staging bouts every other week at the Auditorium.

Up a fast ball game. Oakland is in fourth place in the race for the high school baseball honors, while Fremont is fourth in the cellar.

But standings make no difference when these two rival clubs meet and they will go after each other just as though it were a battle for first place. The game will be played at Bay View, with John Tait pitching for Fremont and Kenny Martin for Oakland.

From the looks of things, the other five teams will have to be satisfied with looking up at the Technical and Alameda teams at the top of the list until next week. Technical is figured to win his game today, while Alameda is not expected to have much trouble with the University. Next week will be the biggest game this season, Alameda and Fremont will meet in a battle for first place.

Alameda meets University Friday, and is expected to win the game will be played at Lincoln park.

California Hopes Drop With Loss of Star Hurdler

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA

April 10.—Another possible loss to the Blue and Gold track team was learned today when rumor spread about the loss of the star hurdler, Jack O'Connell, 20, whom Walt Christie has picked as the logical man to win high hurdles from Stanford Saturday.

He is not to be seen in the meet. He took out leaving college to return to his home town before he was called into naval aviation service on Monday, April 15. He has hopes of being able to arrange his affairs in time to return. The chance of his running are said to be about 50-50, and if he is lost to California her chances for the meet go down several points.

These smaller conference circuits will be so arranged as to provide for an intercollegiate schedule and the future should see no more doubt as to Pacific coast championships in various lines of athletics.

The present may mean a loss of intercollegiate athletics, but the public will welcome that loss in the knowledge that a more clear-cut organization that will make intercollegiate athletics mean something more than a problem of solving domestic differences.

Three Eastbay Tennis Clubs In Title Play

Berkeley, Alameda, Oakland, Sacramento and Two S. F. Teams Will Play.

Eastbay tennis enthusiasts will be the chief followers of the California Lawn Tennis Association tournament this year, for the six clubs in the schedule, three are eastbay organizations. Berkeley, Alameda and Oakland clubs are represented in the league, there being but one division in the schedule this year. Last year there were two divisions, but several of the clubs figured that it would be inadvisable to enter this year's tournament. The clubs participating in the play will be Oakland, Berkeley, Island City, Alameda, California Club of San Francisco, Golden Gate Club of San Francisco and Sacramento.

The schedule as adopted for the league covers six Sundays, starting with Sunday, April 21. The schedule of games calls for the clubs to play as follows in the opening day: Golden Gate vs. Oakland on Oakland Club courts; Berkeley vs. Sacramento on Sacramento courts; Island City Club vs. California Club on California Club courts.

Maxwells Play At Pittsburg Next Sunday

Herb Remmer Staging a Lot of Mystery Stuff, Changing His Uniforms.

Next Sunday the Maxwell Hardware baseball team will travel to Pittsburg to meet Bill Steen's team, and a number of players of the Oakland Commission Merchants are to make the trip with the Maxwells. It will not be a surprise to see Herb Remmer change into the Central Commission Merchants, as the team which will be known as the Maxwells will be wearing the Commission Merchants uniforms when they meet Pittsburg.

Remember boys, San Leandro and the Melrose Merchants will meet in the second of their three game series Sunday, and after the game the two teams played last Sunday the boys figure to split a nice game.

Friday night at Oakland a lot of the managers and players of the Central California League will gather at a meeting at which forfeits of $50 must be put up. The money may be placed in the form of a Liberty bond.

Next Sunday at Lincoln Park, Alameda, Fred Busch and his team will play a game with "Truck" Kues' Mazzoni Hardware team.

There is hardly a chance of the Crockett team pulling Artie Benham away from the Moore shipyard club. Benham said Sunday that he has been offered the job to pitch for Crockett, but is at present satisfied to stick with the shipyard business.

Did you notice the name of Christensen in the lineup with the Edison station team? Well, he is the same little "Seacamp" Christensen who was with the San Leandro Merchants. He is one of the best players in the league, and who will be seen with that team in the Shipyarders' League. Christensen has a liking to the slants of one Red Lydell, who pitched for the Maxwells. He pounded out four hits in five trips to the plate.

Guess there will not be a big demand for local bushes by the Coast League clubs next season if the local boys now with the Oaks continue to go at the rate they did last week? This season saw the local bushes turn out more players to Coast League clubs than has probably any other season. With the Oaks are Seaton, "Chips" Hewitt, Buzz Arlett, Gene Caldera, Ralph Croll and Harvey Christensen. All five players look a cinch to be carried regularly by the Oaks, although they will not be in games so often after Pop Arlett and Hollander recover from their injuries.

It was only the break of luck that put Buzz Arlett, the 19-year-old pitcher, with the Oaks. Buzz played where he would have to talk Buzz into remaining in camp. Although he had not yet signed any contract, Howard started Arlett in 2 couple of practice games, after which he decided that he must have him. Howard went to Arlett's mother, who has been a short talk with her. Buzz was signed to the contract which made him a regular member of the Oaks, and Buzz stayed in the training camp until the rest of the boys came down.

If Gene Caldera can continue to pitch as he did against the Seals and Oaks he will be a cinch to finish the

TRAINED ZEBRAS IN BIG CIRCUS FEATURE

All zoological men and those who have made a study of animals, concluded long ago that both zebras and pigs were devoid of brains. They did not believe that they even possess instinct. When the A. G. Barnes big four-ring wild animal circus came here, April 19, the opportunity to see this idea flatly contradicted will be given. With this show is a group of educated zebras that have been taught to do all that the domestic horse has accomplished, which has been admitted to possess more brains than any other animal known. Broken to harness, delighting in doing all sorts of difficult stunts and with seeming pride, their performance is one that can be duplicated by no other organization in the world. Educational zebras and pigs are but two of the many features that are seen in the large, three-ring hippodrome track and elevated stage show that is coming here. The largest assemblage of wild and domestic animals in the country are made in this aggregation and it is coming here April 19.

On the morning of the day of exhibition a street parade will be given. This wild animal pageant, which is over two miles in length, will pass through the principal streets. Two performances will be given here. The afternoon performance will start promptly at 2 o'clock and the evening performance at 8 o'clock. Doors will open one hour in advance of each performance. This will allow ample time to see the large collection of animals and enjoy the concert given by the thirty-piece band.

453 New Members Secured by Y.M.C.A.

While the Y. M. C. A. membership campaign officially closed last Saturday applications continue to come into association headquarters. More than 453 new members have signed to date. The objective was 500.

Tonight the Belgian division, headed by R. C. Bitterman and C. H. Brinkley will be given a complimentary dinner by the association for its splendid work during the drive. If C. B. Leavelle was the individual star of the campaign, having secured twenty-five new members.

Plans are under way to entertain the new members at a monster military reception and entertainment one day and evening next week. E. A. Corey, membership secretary, has the affair in charge. Novel stunts in the gymnasium will be presented. It will be a star affair.

season with Howard's men, and probably be ready at that time for shipment to the big league. With Harry Krause also on the list, the left-handed batters on other clubs of the leagues are likely to lose many points in their averages when playing the Oaks.

There is only one reason why Otto Dietrich is sorry for Christensen making the Oaks. Otto was figuring on using Harvey at second base on the Oaks' club in the Central California League, but the chances of Harvey being let loose by the Oaks are not any too bright after the showing of the Richmond-Crockett star last week.

It might be said that Otto is both happy and sorry over Christensen's loss, for when Harvey chucked out that triple and single last Sunday morning Otto had a smile from ear to ear.

Muff Bronson Wins Bride if He Takes Title Bout Tonight

PORTLAND, April 10.—Muff Bronson, Portland lightweight, will try tonight to make wedding bells ring by defeating the local light heavyweight, George Ingie, capturing the coast lightweight title, he also will win over Miss Dorothy Curtis in his bride. For this reason, friends of Bronson say he will fight the fight of his life.

ROSS FAVORITE TONIGHT. CHICAGO, April 10.—Pitt McGillicray, Norman Ross, Budie Wallen and McDerbert compete in the A. C. C. 500-yard and 200-yard breast stroke swimming races here tonight. Ross is favorite in the 500-yard event.

Scene from "Cheating the Public"

Carmel Myers in "My Unmarried Wife" - Franklin

'UNMARRIED WIFE' FRANKLIN BILL

Beginning today the Franklin theater presents one of the most novel and surprising pictures of the season, when Carmel Myers is featured on the screen in "My Unmarried Wife." The news prints full of odd things in real life, and the screen goes farther with fiction, but by far the strangest plot of them all will be disclosed in "My Unmarried Wife." The hero of this genuine comedy offering lives in the same apartment with the girl he has never seen but whom he has married; employs her as his servant and never knows or suspects that it is his wife that has made him so good a housekeeper.

The events that lead up to these strange conditions are embodied in tense and exciting episodes, and when the scene shifts to the domicile of the married man, Carmel Myers adds touches of comedy that make the play an entertainment of unusual interest and wonderfully effective. "My Unmarried Wife" is a story such as one seldom sees or hears about and it carries the punch of the 20th century with it making it a play that all will enjoy because of its real merit as a comedy and as a drama.

On the same program with Carmel Myers in "My Unmarried Wife," the management of this theater has secured Charles Lewis and his orchestra. Page one news is contained in the educational Mutual Weekly, released yesterday.

"Cheating the Public" is a tremendous achievement from the standard of the motion picture art, as well as the quality of propaganda. Taking as its theme the shameful practice of unduly employing to profit there is a ringing social appeal for equity and humanity, for common decency. There are ten distinct thrills in the picture, such as an automobile race with a railroad train, a mad 100-mile a minute ride, with head-high gleaming and nerves pitched to the limit, a thrilling rescue of a fragile girl, falsely accused, shuddering in the very shadow of the electric chair, the dramatic marriage of the heroine of the story to the son of the profiteer. Among the stars are Enid Markey, Ralph Lewis, William Wanda, Frank Lee and a score of others equally well known.

"Social Hypocrites," featuring May Allison, makes obvious the broadness of the number of acres in a pack of cards depends entirely upon the pack. Scenes of smart gambling affairs, where are gathered fashionable men and women, provide the color for the production.

"St. Elmo" Is Offering at Bishop This Week

St. Elmo, a wonderful tale of a man who was a superhero in the past, is still only a child in it, a hero and a villain combined, and with an ideal stage character; this is the play Bishop auditions are seeing this week. "St. Elmo" was one of the novels of modern times. As a play it is greater than as a novel, it is a unique offering that satisfies, it has some instances of the art and science of stagecraft in it, it has some dramatic situations and it has appeal to the heart. Legends are not lacking.

John Smith, the "St. Elmo" hero of the queer story, has a part that makes great tough brother. His perception of emotional values was never put to a surer test. And Betty Brice, who plays the woman's lead, has an equal opportunity. The work is different from any Miss Brice has been called on to do, but her versatility is readily demonstrated by her playing of the role.

The play is rich in character work for the Bishop players. George P. Webster, Hugh Metcalfe, George Knowlton, Eleanor Parker, Ben Erwin, Rodney Hidebrand, Harry Garrity and the rest of the cast are all seen in clever bits.

St. Elmo is one of the successes of the Bishop season; a play, novel and original.

Otis Skinner in "Mister Antonio" at Auditorium

The Otis Skinner of today, playing the role of "Mister Antonio" in the Booth Theatre comedy, "Mister Antonio," to trouble houses everywhere, contrasts sharply with the Otis Skinner of the late seventies when for $3 a week he was the son of a United States minister was playing the role of a negro in "The Frank F. Frayne family" at the Philadelphia Museum and letting Frayne shoot a clay pipe out of his mouth. In those days Otis Skinner was paying $125 a week for his room, while today—well, the cost of living has gone up a bit.

Skinner often looks back on those early days and wonders how he ever came to the stage with so much adversity. It was P. T. Barnum, a friend of his father who gave him a letter to William F. Frayne, of Philadelphia, and from that time until this he has been on the stage continually. During his first season he played 150 parts and had to resort to a night suit to dress them. Today he has a valet. Some difference.

The actor recalls how he played an anti-social banker with a paper collar and a suit of black cloth, got into Frayne's company, offered him the chance of playing a Mexican and wrestling with a bulldog, or playing a negro and letting Frayne shoot a clay pipe out of his mouth he chose the latter.

Then it occurred to me that I was taking in this in my hands every time I stood up there, while Frayne, with his gun reversed and looking into a mirror, shot the pipe into the air. I got so worried that I would come off the stage before I had a chance to say a word. Four years later Frayne sent a bullet through his wife's brain trying to perform the same feat on the stage.

Otis Skinner concludes his engagement at the Auditorium theater this evening with "Mister Antonio," the play of clever and exciting episodes, which has proved to be very popular with local theatergoers.

Norma Talmadge Is at Broadway Tomorrow

Norma Talmadge, who reached the heights of filmdom with the Vitaphone "Triangle" company, will make her appearance as a Selznick Pictures star at the Broadway Theatre on Thursday.

An adaptation of the noted drama "Panther" by Norman Hapgood, she will play in which Miss Talmadge starred so successfully on the American stage several seasons ago and which created a smash throughout Europe, being claimed one of the strongest dramas of the age. It was chosen as Miss Talmadge's first vehicle under her new management, who has never failed to select the beautiful and talented young player the greatest opportunity of her career for emotional acting.

The story is that of a young Russian pianist, who, suspected of nihilism, escapes to England, where she falls in love with a struggling composer. They are married and settle in Paris, where Panthea's husband tries in vain to get a hearing for his opera. The many disappointments impair his health and the physicians declare that he will die unless his ambition to have his opera produced is realized. For the sake of her husband Panthea makes a compact with an elderly statesman who has never failed to help her, and they all will want to stand up and cheer when Dorothy in her strong-minded, virile way brings matters around to where she wanted them.

It is unnecessary to add anything further than to say that "Fatty, Bell Boy" is the best Patsy at St. John and Buster Keaton have done.

Roscoe's Royal Nine Please at Pantages

Six vaudeville acts in one, offered by the son of the man who invented the ball-bearing and the caterpillar, will play the minstrel show presented by Roscoe's Royal Nine, one of the big acts at Pantages this week.

The act is owned by Roscoe Smith, whose father in 1867 invented the ball-bearing and who later patented the caterpillar wheel. The act last year was offered by a complete show, but was required to vaudeville proportions to meet the Pantages requirements.

Glady's Cella and Maude Hiegle, who present the comedy trio in the act before joining Smith, offered a complete vaudeville act on their own account. Betty Jordan, the interlude singer, formerly did a singing act in vaudeville, while Sadie Whitting did a dancing act and Maude Raymond not only headed another vaudeville act, but starred in "The Isle of Sodor." Helen Francis, the eccentric dancer, was featured over Eastern vaudeville circuits and only recently with "Miss Simple Simon," while Laura Bradley and Peggy Cantil recently closed a singing and dancing act of their own.

The Pantages hit for the week is an unusual pleasing one. The Uyen Troupe of Japanese presents a remarkable tumbling act, while James Thompson, a comedian, submits a so-called laughable demonstration of camouflage.

Hop Lee company complete a strong bill, taken in Alaska by Beverly E. Dobbs. Some of the unusual features of this film are the capture of a polar bear, pictures of a herd of 10,000 walrus, pictures of the Siberian coast and the ice floes of the Arctic, and other unusual scenes.

Find Man Dead On Ranch Near Cupertino

SAN JOSE, April 10.—An investigation of the cause of death poultry and pigeons on a ranch near Cupertino, Cal., led to the discovery of the death of William Naumann, a hermit, the proprietor. It is believed that Naumann died of heart trouble about three weeks ago. It is rumored that Naumann has a wife and family in South America.

RUPERT HUGHES STORY AT T. & D.

"Ghosts of Yesterday," adapted from "Two Women," by Rupert Hughes, and starring Norma Talmadge, is a dramatic feature of another double program at the new T. & D. theater. The second big screen headliner is "The Wine Girl," introducing the famous English star, Carmel Myers. Thus two great women stars of the screen firmament vie for honors on a program that is far from ordinary. The T. & D. attractions including an exceptionally attractive musical feast.

"Ghosts of Yesterday" depicts the change of heart of a fast-living gambler through the influence of true love, which comes to her as the poses for the comfort of the heroine of an artist's dead wife. She feels, however, that no deed not care for her and returns to the gay life of the Bal Tabarin where she is queen, after slashing into ribbons the painting which she thinks stands between them.

Realize his love for her, and he follows her to Paris, where he reforms himself from a gambler to a man of letters. Although the artist loses his eyesight from a wound received in the first World War, the actress rescues the girl he finds the greatest treasure that a man can obtain—a true helmsman and wife. For those who like the type of drama that is spiritual, the awakening of a man and woman and the turning of a hell true love "Ghosts of Yesterday" will give that last attraction.

"The Wine Girl" is a notable production, starring Carmel Myers who registered such a tremendous success in "My Unmarried Wife." The photography is by Harvey Gates who wrote "Hell Morgan's Girl" and the combination of author and star should make a feature that is standard demanded of all T. & D. attractions.

Irving Berlin's famous song "They Were Out of Step" and "Imagined" from a musical comedy by Allen Lane, the wizard organizer whose concerts with "Theater's Orchestra" are the talk of the town, will be featured in the musical selection.

Four minutes with James MacLafferty and Carl Anderson is a decided hit at the T. & D. MacLafferty is one of the ablest of four minute speakers while Anderson enjoys like distinction as a musical comedian. The program will provide another delightful program of operatic selections.

The "Zone" is the play the Washington Square players surprised New York of the city.

Bert Kalmar and Jessie Brown offer their concentration in "The Zone." It is a scenic production in which nursery rhyme characters are introduced. There is the dog, also Jack and Little Bo Peep, Simple Simon, and Mary and all the rest, worked into a little revue that steps out of a picture book as the dream of a child.

Alton Harris is pretty and vivacious. Her act is a spell of joy, one of those gems of vaudeville that give Orpheum every new and new and surprises its patrons with. Franklin is equally popular although a different style of act. Miss Christie comedy round out the bill.

Four Big Features at Orpheum, Attraction

Bert Kalmar and Jessie Brown, who have charmed children from 5 to 30 all over the world, Franklin, the international celebrated violinist, Alton Harris, sparkling singer of syncopated melodies, and "The Zone," the brilliant playlet of diver waters, are the four widely different features that stand out in the midst of a balanced bill of Orpheum vaudeville this week at the Oakland house. For variety the bill is a notable one.

STOCKS and BONDS

Erie Preferred, Today's Feature Market Sees Heavy Investment

NEW YORK, April 10.—The moderate strength of Shippings and Coppers and the relative heaviness of investments were the contrasting features of today's restricted stock market.

The most noteworthy feature at the dull opening of today's stock market was the fractional gain in Erie preferred issues based on possibilities of early dividends. Marine preferred, distillers and Sumatra tobacco embraced the other strong and active shares at gains of large fractions to one-half percent. Included among the moderate heavy stocks were St. Paul, preferred, Texas Company, Industrial Alcohol, American Car and American Can. Liberty bonds were irregular.

Business was curtailed by the storm, which interrupted private wire communication with the Middle West, but upward progress was made later, especially in coppers and shippings. Gains of one to two points were registered by Inspiration and Chino, Marine preferred and Atlantic Gulf. Distillers increased its early advance and corn products and canning were added to the prominent specialties but rails and seasoned industrials showed little change.

Trading was virtually at a standstill in the afternoon, but prices were lower, some rails reacting sharply. The closing was heavy.

The movement of prices in greater detail at different periods of trading is indicated in the following:

OPENING—There was no disturbance of the security trading situation at the opening, although the news from France was again unsatisfactory and was used as a reason for some selling at the start by the bond traders, causing some slight recessions in the leading stocks. Within a few minutes it was evident that there was no pressure of low stocks from any source and an improvement set in, which carried some issues up around one point.

Marine preferred was the most prominent feature, advancing over one point to 95 1/2. Steel common opened down 1/4 at 90 1/2, but recovered this loss in the next few minutes. Distillers, which opened down 1/4 at 42 1/2, then advanced 1/2 to 43 1/2. The copper stocks were again strong with indications of continued revaluation of both domestic and international advances. Reading dropped 1/4 to 80 and then rallied to 80 1/2. Trading in Liberty bonds was quiet, some selling at 85 1/2, while the 4s were in supply at 96 1/2.

FORENOON—There were irregular movements all through the early forenoon, with a few issues showing pronounced strength. Inspiration Copper advanced one point to 43 1/2, high record for this movement. Kelsey-Springfield sold up three points to 45. Marine preferred moved up 1/4 to 95 1/2, and Atlantic Gulf sold up two points, but quickly reacted to 110 1/2. St. Paul preferred was again selling at 87 1/2. Steel common was quiet, some selling at 90 1/2, while the 4s were in supply at 96 1/2.

CLOSING—The market closed weak. Government bonds were unchanged, rails and other heavy stocks, a bear raid on St. Paul preferred during the final trading caused that stock to drop to 86 1/2, a low record for this movement. Inspiration Copper was down 1/4 to 42 1/2, and Atlantic Gulf was down 1/4 to 110 1/2. Steel common was down 1/4 to 89 1/2, and the 4s were down 1/4 to 95 1/2. Reading was down 1/4 to 79 1/2, and the 4s were down 1/4 to 80 1/2. The market was closed weak.

Local Produce

Asparagus sold weakly on the commission market, but a somewhat heavier supply than usual since the start of the season, this being caused through late arrival of the boats not arriving today, and the heavy rains were on the market together with this.

CIVIC CENTER
WILL DISCUSS
PUBLIC MART

By HARRY D. SULLY.

Both sides of the municipal market question will be presented Friday afternoon before the Civic Center of the California Civic League at the open meeting to be held at the Hotel Oakland. The meeting will be addressed by Professor Elwood Mead, head of the department of rural institutions, college of agriculture, University of California, who will speak in behalf of direct trading between consumer and producer; and George W. Hatch of the Hunt-Hatch Company, one of the largest commission houses in the bay region, who will set forth the need of the middleman in handling produce for the city. Mrs. A. E. Stone of the Oakland board of market directors, will be chairman of the day.

The factors that make municipal markets an urgent need at the present time are discussed in an article in this week's issue of the Spectator, the official publication of the Santa Fe Improvement Association, the largest improvement club in Oakland. The editor of the magazine is E. C. Kayser. The article, entitled "What a Municipal Market Will Do," follows:

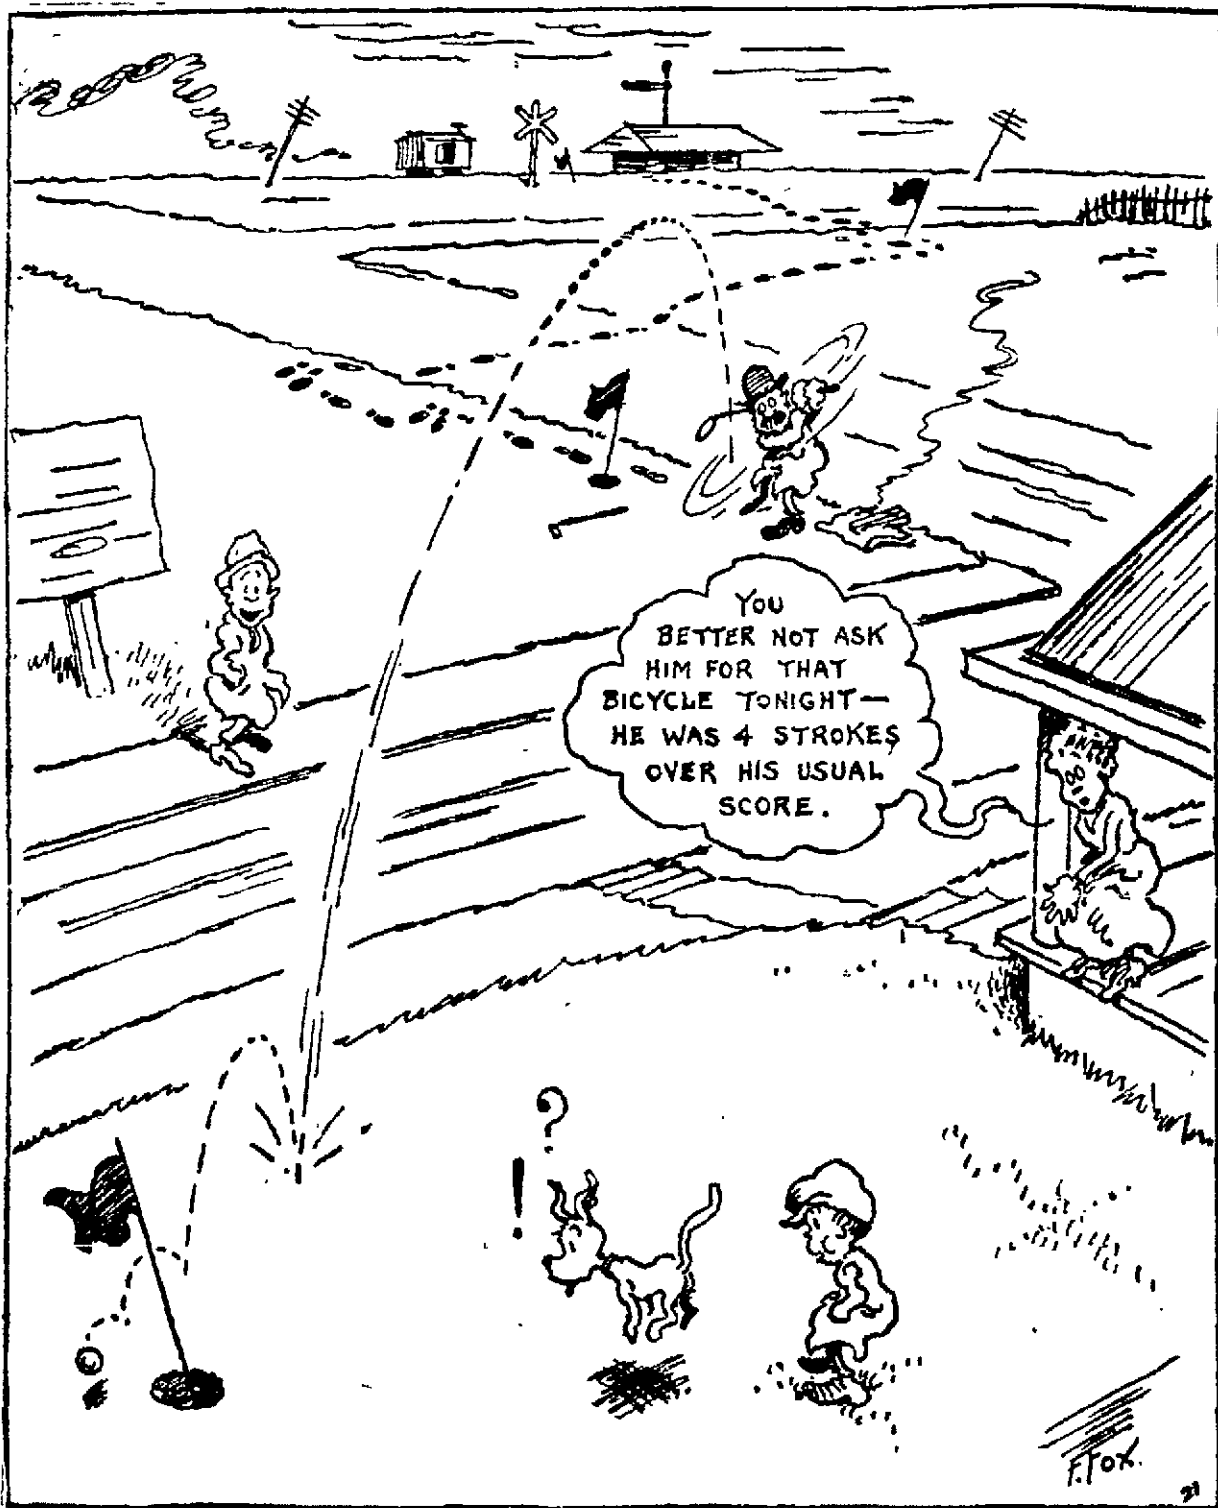

SHOWS SERVICE.

"The public markets, where the producer of foodstuffs may meet consumers at first hand, have proved immensely serviceable wherever tried, and are solving the high-cost-of-living problem. They have resulted in saving one-third the cost to the consumer of plain necessities. This saving, too, has been accomplished without damage to any established line of business. The producer has been given an improved cash market because more of his product has been demanded and a ready sale assured. General merchandising has been improved because purchasers with limited means have been enabled to spare more of their resources for clothing, dry goods, etc. Places of amusement have been benefited because the masses have been able to afford extra nickels and dimes for a little pleasure.

"Besides these economical considerations the general health has been improved because better food has been available. Fresh fruits, vegetables, eggs and poultry are far more wholesome and nourishing than like products which have spent days or weeks in transit from the farm, through wholesaler, jobber and retailer. Better food collected by the consumer enables him, by curtailing wastefulness, to make his money 'go further' than is otherwise possible. With good reasons, therefore, the civic and improvement associations of Oakland, backed by The Oakland Tribune, are bestirring themselves to secure a municipal market for other cities have done. No better field for the promotion of the welfare of our civic bodies in behalf of the public welfare could possibly be chosen than this.

CONVINCED OF BENEFIT.

"We are convinced that a municipal market will have an influence for the public benefit that rises far above all mere economical considerations. Important as those are. All other things being equal that community which is best fed, best clothed, and best sheltered has the least disorder, the least sickness and the greatest contentment and happiness. Such a community possesses the highest percentage of good citizenship. There is, then, a moral as well as a material side to this question. A sound mind in a sound body is the best asset a community can have, and any influences that make for those conditions are worthy of the greatest consideration."

ADVENTISTS TO USE HUGE SUM

Thirty-four thousand dollars in addition to the $1,100,000 appropriated to mission work by the general conference committee of the Seventh-day Adventists last November, has been definitely set aside for this purpose by the World Conference assembled at the Exposition Auditorium. Of this sum $11,000 was given by the Adventist churches in Iowa, Minnesota, North Dakota and South Dakota; $2500 by the churches in East Michigan; $1000 by the Montana Adventists; and $20,000 by those of Oregon, Washington, Idaho and Alaska.

The delegates voted yesterday to launch a campaign throughout the denomination calling upon all wealthy members to contribute liberally for evangelistic work. The magnitude of the task of giving the gospel of Christ to the entire world was emphasized by President Arthur G. Daniels, of the World Conference, and many other speakers.

A large number of officials were elected at yesterday's session of the big convocation, including the following: Associate secretary, General Conference, Pastor J. L. Shaw, of Washington, D. C.; executive secretary, medical department, General Conference, Dr. W. A. Ruble, of Washington, D. C.; secretary religious liberty department, General Conference, C. S. Longacre, of Washington, D. C.; secretary North American Negro department, Pastor W. H. Green, of Detroit, Mich.; executive secretary, foreign department, General Conference, Pastor L. H. Christian, Chicago; assistant secretary foreign department, Pastors J. T. Boettcher, P. C. Broderson, G. E. Nord; assistant secretary medical department, General Conference, Dr. H. W. Miller, of Washington, D. C.; assistant secretary home missionary department, Pastor F. W. Shaw, of Washington, D. C.; assistant field secretary, Sabbath School Department, General Conference, Pastor E. E. Beddoe, of Glendale, Cal.; auditor, General Conference, J. J. Ireland; secretary-treasurer for South America, W. H. Williams; field and home missionary secretary for South America, J. H. McEachern, of Colima, Mex.; assistant secretary for East Asia, C. C. Crisler, formerly of St. Helena, Cal., sub-treasurer for East Asia, H. W. Barrows; assistant secretary of publishing and home missionary departments for East Asia, Carl E. Weeks, formerly of Mountain View, Cal.; assistant secretary educational and young people's missionary volunteer department for East Asia, S. L. Frost, of Shanghai, China; assistant secretary medical department for East Asia, Dr. C. C. Landis, of Shanghai, China; assistant secretary, Sabbath school department for East Asia, Pastor R. F. Cottrell, of Shanghai, China.

The convention will close Sunday night.

MAILED POISON TO HIMSELF, CHARGE

E. G. Lindberg, former Oakland motorist and now a soldier stationed at Camp Fremont, likes himself so well that he sent himself a box of candy containing poison and powdered glass, according to the allegation in an indictment against him returned by the Federal Grand Jury. It is also charged that because he likes Mrs. Alice B. Malone, too, and because she doesn't like him, he was bent upon doing something to spite her. So he conceived the idea of poisoning himself with sweets, so that the bitterness of his portion would be artistically heightened, it is alleged.

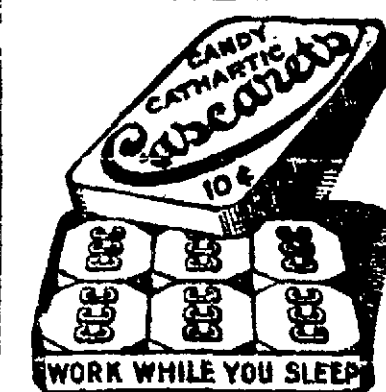

It is charged by Caspar Ornbaum, assistant United States district attorney, that Lindberg used envelopes addressed to him by Mrs. Malone in addressing the candy to himself. After he had duly received the parcel he caused Mrs. Malone's arrest, and appeared as complaining witness against her. At the hearing he was subjected to a severe grilling as a result of which he was indicted and the charge against Mrs. Malone dismissed.

This will be a "Belgian Night," when George Marsily, well known member of the Belgian colony, will deliver an address on "German Kultur." There will also be vocal numbers by Belgian ladies. Corporal Bannister, of the Presidio, will read the second half of his diary, "My Experiences in the War in Flanders."

Stop Itching Eczema

Never mind how often you have tried and failed, you can stop burning, itching eczema quickly by applying a little zemo furnished by any druggist for 3c. Extra large bottle, $1.00. Healing begins the moment zemo is applied. In a short time usually every trace of eczema, tetter, pimples, rash, blackheads and similar skin diseases will be removed. For clearing the skin and making it vigorously healthy, always use zemo, the penetrating, antiseptic liquid. It is not a greasy salve and it does not stain. When others fail it is the one dependable treatment for skin troubles of all kinds. The E. W. Ross Co., Cleveland, O.

DRAFT BOARDS REQUESTED TO SPEED LISTS

Appeal to the State Councils of Defense to speed up draft boards in returning occupational record cards of registered men to Washington has been sent out by Provost Marshall General E. H. Crowder, as a result of alleged delays in tabulating men available for service in various lines. Crowder asks that requisite assistance be supplied the boards to speed up clerical operations. His telegram follows:

GIVE ASSISTANCE.

"Provost Marshall General Crowder appeals to your State Council to provide all local draft boards in your state with adequate assistance for transcription and transmittal of occupational cards. School teachers already assisting, but have not proved adequate. Seven local boards have defaulted entirely and many partially in this work. Until transcription of occupational cards is complete, United States Army must wait for vitally needed skilled workmen. This is, therefore, a national emergency.

"Direct each local council to go to each draft board in its jurisdiction and inquire the number and type of assistants needed. Make sure that each local council provides desired assistance. Bulletins of this telegram to every local council within your state. Give wide publicity to the need of assistance by local board. They have been informed of the assistance of local council. It is up to you to provide the assistance and make sure that transcription by all boards in your state is performed. Will wire you from time to time a list of boards especially in default, but do not wait for our wires."

STATUS OUTLINED.

The status of national guard companies recently organized was also determined today through telegrams received from Washington. The information was in response to wired queries sent Saturday by Adjutant General J. J. Borree at Sacramento to the chief of the national militia bureau, in which he suggested that thirteen infantry companies of the California National Guard, just completed, be mustered into Federal service at Camp Kearney with the 4th division.

Washington's statement declared that under the present plans of the War Department, the companies were to be retained for home duty. Any member who desired regular service, said the despatch,

Entertainment and Dance Plans Complete

The committee in charge of the entertainment and dance under the auspices of the East Bay District Committee of Y. L. I. and Y. M. I., which will be held tomorrow evening at the Knights of Columbus Hall, 850 Thirteenth street, has completed arrangements. A program consisting of vocal and musical selections with a short two-act comedy, entitled "My Turn Next," will be presented. The members of the St. Patrick's Parish Dramatic Society will present the comedy. Dancing will follow the program, for which a regular "jazz" band has been procured. A number of enlisted men have been invited to be the guests of the "Young Ladies" and Young Men's Institute.

The following committee is in charge of the affair: James T. O'Brien, Mrs. Agnes Krieg, Miss Irene Judge, Miss Mary Hickey, Ed F. Heritage, Manuel D. Souza and Walter F. Hayes.

SOCIETY ON CARPET FOR
"NOISE CARS"

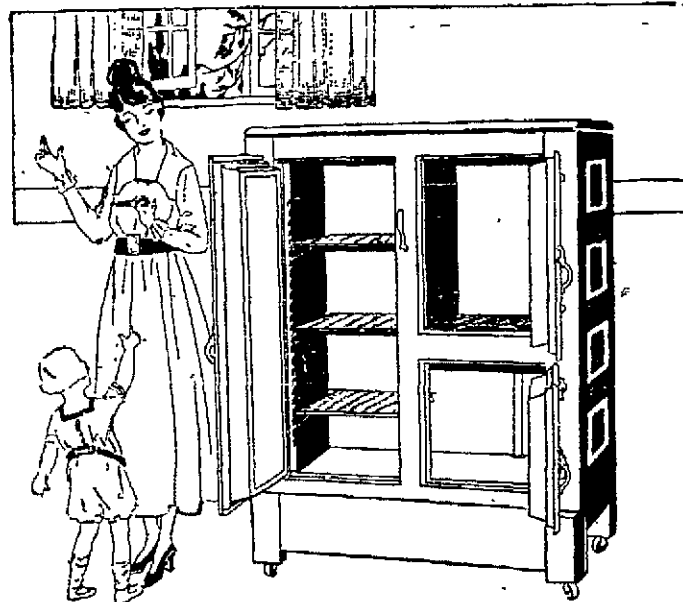

Failing to answer the order to appear in the Piedmont justice court to receive sentence for driving with open muffler, Harold Havens, a prominent realty operator, was arrested at his home at the order of Judge G. T. Burchaell. Havens appeared in court late yesterday afternoon and was fined $10. Others charged with driving with open mufflers were fined $2.

"This driving with open mufflers is as bad as speeding," said Judge Burchaell. "Some of these cars can be heard approaching a mile away and cause a great deal of annoyance. Numerous complaints have been made and many more arrests likely will be made."

Motorists fined $2 yesterday by Judge Burchaell for driving with open mufflers were: W. M. Thompson and J. A. Cianciarulo, Sheridan avenue, Piedmont; L. Baughaup, Oakland; H. E. Denman, 3555 Custer avenue, Alameda; Samuel Bouchree and Manuel Borza. Ralph N. Haglin, 3011 Benvenue avenue, Berkeley, was fined $10 for speeding, and F. J. Kenz, 1502 Third avenue, Oakland, and Richard Ayres, 240 Seaview avenue, Piedmont, were each fined $15 for a similar offense.

S. F. Liquor Dealer
Falls Dead in Office

SAN FRANCISCO, April 10.—As he was about to leave to act as host at a farewell dinner given in honor of his son, William Hunt Jr., at the St. Francis Hotel, William Hunt, liquor dealer and head of the William Hunt Company, 690 Third street, dropped dead in his private office last evening. Hunt's wife and son, who was to leave today for the United States naval reserve station at San Pedro, were preparing for the dinner party at the hotel when they were notified of the death by telephone. Shortly before his death Hunt complained of pains in his heart. Hunt and his son were indicted recently by the Federal Grand Jury in Portland on charges of conspiring to violate the Oregon prohibition laws. Hunt was arrested and released on bail, but when the Government sought their removal to Portland, Federal Judge M. T. Doelling refused to grant the order.
